The commissioner of finance shall, not less than sixty days preceding the date of the sale of a tax lien or tax liens, submit to the commissioner of housing preservation and development a description by block and lot, or by such other identification as the commissioner of finance may deem appropriate, of any parcel of class one, class one-a or class two real property on which there is a tax lien that may be foreclosed by the city. The commissioner of housing preservation and development shall determine, and direct the commissioner of finance, not less than ten days preceding the date of the sale of a tax lien or tax liens, whether any such parcel is a distressed property as defined in subdivision four of section 11-401 of this chapter. Any tax lien on a parcel so determined to be a distressed property shall not be included in such sale. In connection with a subsequent sale of a tax lien or tax liens, the commissioner of finance may, not less than sixty days preceding the date of the sale, resubmit to the commissioner of housing preservation and development a description by block and lot, or by such other identification as the commissioner of finance may deem appropriate, of any parcel of class one, class one-a or class two real property that was previously determined to be a distressed property pursuant to this paragraph and on which there is a tax lien that may be included in such sale. The commissioner of housing preservation and development shall determine, and direct the commissioner of finance, not less than ten days preceding the date of the sale, whether such parcel remains a distressed property. If the commissioner of housing preservation and development determines that the parcel is not a distressed property, then the tax lien on the parcel may be included in the sale.

b. The commissioner of housing preservation and development may periodically review whether a parcel of class one, class one-a or class two real property that is subject to subdivision c of this section or subdivision j of section 11-412.1 of this chapter remains a distressed property. If the commissioner determines that the parcel is not a distressed property as defined in subdivision four of section 11-401 of this chapter, then the parcel shall not be subject to such subdivisions.

7 (5) Notwithstanding paragraph one, two or three of this subdivision,

23 quarterly on the first days of July, October, January and April. For the 24 purposes of calculating the number of such remaining installments,
25 unpaid real estate taxes that are due and payable on other than a quar-
26 terly basis shall be deemed to be payable on a quarterly basis.

27 § 23. Section 581 of the real property tax law is REPEALED.

28 § 24. Subdivision 1 of section 339-y of the real property law, as 29 amended by chapter 218 of the laws of 1986, subparagraph (ii) of para-

31 as added by chapter 135 of the laws of 1996 and paragraph (f) as added
32 by chapter 293 of the laws of 1997, is amended to read as follows:

33 1. (a) With respect to all property submitted to the provisions of 34 this article other than property which is the subject of a qualified
35 leasehold condominium, each unit and its common interest, not including 36 any personal property, shall be deemed to be a parcel and shall be
37 subject to separate assessment and taxation by each assessing unit,
38 school district, special district, county or other taxing unit, for all
39 types of taxes authorized by law including but not limited to special ad
40 valorem levies and special assessments, except that the foregoing shall
41 not apply to a unit held under lease or sublease unless the declaration
42 requires the unit owner to pay all taxes attributable to his unit.
43 Neither the building, the property nor any of the common elements shall 44 be deemed to be a parcel.

45 (b) ~~[In no event shall the aggregate of the assessment of the units~~
46 ~~plus their common interests exceed the total valuation of the property~~
47 ~~were the property assessed as a parcel.~~

48 ~~(c)]~~ For the purposes of this and the next succeeding section the 49 terms "assessing unit", "assessment", "parcel", "special ad valorem
50 levy", "special assessment", "special district", "taxation" and "taxes"
51 shall have the meanings specified in section one hundred two of the real 52 property tax law.

53 ~~[(d) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this subdivision shall not~~
54 ~~apply to such real property classified within:~~

~~(i) on and after January first, nineteen hundred eighty six, class one of section one thousand eight hundred two of the real property tax law, or~~

~~(ii) on and after January first, nineteen hundred eighty four, the homestead class of an approved assessing unit which has adopted the provisions of section one thousand nine hundred three of the real property tax law, or the homestead class of the portion outside an approved assessing unit of an eligible split school district which has adopted the provisions of section nineteen hundred three-a of the real property tax law, provided, however, that, in an approved assessing unit which adopted the provisions of section one thousand nine hundred three of the real property tax law prior to the effective date of this subdivision, paragraph (b) of this subdivision shall apply to all such real property (i) which is classified within the homestead class pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision (c) of section one thousand nine hundred one of the real property tax law and (ii) which, regardless of classification, was on the assessment roll prior to the effective date of this subdivision unless the governing body of such approved assessing unit provides by local law adopted after a public hearing, prior to the taxable status date of such assessing unit next occurring after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty three, that such paragraph (b) shall not apply to such real property to which this clause applies. Units owned by a developer may be entered as a single parcel with a parcel description corresponding to the entire development, including the land under such development, and excluding those units appearing separately. Upon the first assessment roll where each unit is separately assessed, only an individual unit and its common interest shall constitute a parcel.

A converted condominium unit for purposes of this paragraph shall mean a dwelling unit held in condominium form of ownership that has previously been on an assessment roll as a dwelling unit in other than condominium form of ownership, and has not been previously subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this subdivision.]~~

§ 25. This act shall take effect on the first of January next succeeding the date on which it shall have become a law and shall apply to assessment rolls prepared pursuant to a taxable status date occurring on or after such date. Effective immediately, the addition, amendment and/or repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of this act on its effective date are authorized to be made and completed on or before such effective date.
