AN ACT to amend the executive law, in relation to requiring the office of court administration to establish a searchable public database providing information regarding eviction proceedings in the state

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision 2 of section 212 of the judiciary law, is amended by adding a new paragraph (cc) to read as follows:

(cc) establish an electronic database of all eviction proceedings in the state. Such database shall include, but not be limited to, the following: the docket number and date the action was filed; whether the tenant had legal representation in the eviction proceeding; whether an eviction has been ordered and the date on which such eviction was ordered; the reason for the eviction and, where the reason is for nonpayment, the amount owed; whether the tenant had a lease agreement; the number of individuals evicted and the number of unique households; whether the property is commercial or residential; and the zip code of the property. In compliance with the tenant protection act of two thousand nineteen, any personally identifiable information shall not be included in the database. Such database shall be available to the public, accessible from the office's website, and able to be searched and sorted into the categories required to be included in the database pursuant to this paragraph. The chief administrator shall adopt rules consistent with the requirements of this paragraph directing any village, town or other local courts that may have eviction proceedings within their subject matter jurisdiction to report their eviction proceeding data to the office of court administration no less than four times annually, at an interval of three months, for the purposes of compiling the statewide eviction database required by this paragraph.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.
