AN ACT to amend the executive law, the real property actions and proceedings law and the real property law, in relation to establishing the New York state office of civil representation to provide access to legal services in eviction proceedings

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Legislative findings. Eviction proceedings have a 2 profoundly disparate impact on low-income individuals and given this 3 disparate impact, it is imperative that these individuals be provided 4 legal representation in legal proceedings that put their housing at 5 risk. Additionally, because eviction proceedings can be complex, all New 6 Yorkers should be apprised of the process as well as their rights and 7 remedies in such proceedings.

8 There is a fundamental human right to adequate housing accommodations.
9 Safe, secure, and accessible housing is essential to achieving equal 10 access to all other fundamental needs. Without housing, individuals and 11 families too often cannot preserve family integrity, gain employment or

1 other income, or enjoy access to healthcare, proper nutrition, and 2 education.

3 Eviction proceedings and displacement as a result of evictions have a 4 disparate impact on low-income individuals and particularly on low-in-5 come people of color, who are disproportionately the respondents in 6 eviction proceedings.

7 Representation of the people who are most at risk of losing their 8 homes in legal proceedings preserves access to housing and ensures 9 compliance with laws protecting people's rights in such proceedings.
10 Abrupt, unwarranted, or unlawful evictions disrupt lives and liveli-11 hoods, force people to find housing in a market with a severe shortage 12 of affordable housing and often significantly increases the risk of 13 homelessness. The short- and long-term effects of housing instability 14 are devastating to individuals and families and can affect physical and 15 mental health, employment and education. Providing legal assistance to 16 individuals who are most at risk of housing instability not only 17 protects individuals and families from these devastating effects, it 18 saves public funds that would otherwise be spent on shelters and 19 services to people experiencing homelessness as well as the wide range 20 of detrimental short- and long-term collateral consequences of housing 21 instability.

22 § 2. The executive law is amended by adding a new article 29 to read 23 as follows:

44 legal consultation, as applicable, pursuant to section eight hundred 45 thirty of the executive law.

46 § 4. Subdivisions 1 and 2 of section 711 of the real property actions
47 and proceedings law, subdivision 1 as amended by chapter 305 of the laws
48 of 1963 and subdivision 2 as amended by section 12 of part M of chapter 49 36 of the laws of 2019, are amended to read as follows:

50 1. The tenant continues in possession of any portion of the premises
51 after the expiration of his term, without the permission of the landlord 52 or, in a case where a new lessee is entitled to possession, without the 53 permission of the new lessee. Acceptance of rent after commencement of 54 the special proceeding upon this ground shall not terminate such 55 proceeding nor effect any award of possession to the landlord or to the 56 new lessee, as the case may be. A proceeding seeking to recover

1 possession of real property by reason of the termination of the term 2 fixed in the lease pursuant to a provision contained therein giving the 3 landlord the right to terminate the time fixed for occupancy under such 4 agreement if he deem the tenant objectionable, shall not be maintainable 5 unless the landlord shall by competent evidence establish to the satis-
6 faction of the court that the tenant is objectionable. No proceeding 7 shall be maintained unless the court has notified an individual of the 8 ability to obtain legal representation or legal consultation, as appli-9 cable, pursuant to section eight hundred thirty of the executive law.

10 2. The tenant has defaulted in the payment of rent, pursuant to the 11 agreement under which the premises are held, and a written demand of the 12 rent has been made with at least fourteen days' notice requiring, in the 13 alternative, the payment of the rent, or the possession of the premises, 14 has been served upon him as prescribed in section seven hundred thirty-15 five of this article. No proceeding shall be maintained unless the court 16 has notified an individual of the ability to obtain legal representation 17 or legal consultation, as applicable, pursuant to section eight hundred 18 thirty of the executive law. Any person succeeding to the landlord's 19 interest in the premises may proceed under this subdivision for rent due 20 his predecessor in interest if he has a right thereto. Where a tenant 21 dies during the term of the lease and rent due has not been paid and the 22 apartment is occupied by a person with a claim to possession, a proceed-23 ing may be commenced naming the occupants of the apartment seeking a 24 possessory judgment only as against the estate. Entry of such a judgment 25 shall be without prejudice to the possessory claims of the occupants, 26 and any warrant issued shall not be effective as against the occupants.

27 § 5. Section 713 of the real property actions and proceedings law is 28 amended by adding a new subdivision 12 to read as follows:

29 12. No proceeding shall be maintained, unless the court has provided 30 the respondent with written notice of the ability of the respondent to 31 obtain legal representation or legal consultation, as applicable, pursu-32 ant to section eight hundred thirty of the executive law.

33 § 6. Section 745 of the real property actions and proceedings law is 34 amended by adding a new subdivision 3 to read as follows:

35 3. Where a respondent who is an eligible individual, as defined in 36 subdivision three of section eight hundred twenty-nine of the executive 37 law, appears in court without counsel, the court shall notify such 38 respondent orally of the ability to obtain legal representation pursuant 39 to section eight hundred thirty of the executive law, and if such 40 respondent would like counsel, the court shall adjourn the trial and 41 provide sufficient time, not less than fourteen days, for such respond-42 ent to retain and consult counsel and shall grant such further adjourn-43 ments as the court deems necessary for such covered individual to obtain 44 counsel.

45 § 7. Subdivisions 1 and 3 of section 749 of the real property actions
46 and proceedings law, as amended by section 19 of part M of chapter 36 of 47 the laws of 2019, are amended to read as follows:

48 1. Upon rendering a final judgment for petitioner, the court shall 49 issue a warrant directed to the sheriff of the county or to any constable 50 or marshal of the city in which the property, or a portion thereof, 51 is situated, or, if it is not situated in a city, to any constable of 52 any town in the county, describing the property, stating the earliest 53 date upon which execution may occur pursuant to the order of the court, 54 and commanding the officer to remove all persons named in the proceed-55 ing, provided upon a showing of good cause, the court may issue a stay 56 of re-letting or renovation of the premises for a reasonable period of

1 time. However, no court shall issue a judgment authorizing the issuance 2 of a warrant of eviction against a respondent who has defaulted, or 3 authorize the execution of an eviction pursuant to a default judgment, 4 unless the court has provided the respondent with written notice of the 5 respondent's ability to obtain legal representation or legal consulta-6 tion, as applicable, pursuant to section eight hundred thirty of the 7 executive law in eviction proceedings in the notice required by sections 8 seven hundred eleven, seven hundred forty-one and seven hundred forty-9 five of this article.

10 3. Nothing contained herein shall deprive the court of the power to 11 stay or vacate such warrant for good cause shown prior to the execution 12 thereof, or to restore the tenant to possession subsequent to execution 13 of the warrant. The failure of the court to advise an individual of 14 their ability to obtain legal representation or legal consultation, as 15 applicable, pursuant to section eight hundred thirty of the executive 16 law in an eviction proceeding shall constitute good cause to stay or 17 vacate such warrant. In a judgment for non-payment of rent, the court 18 shall vacate a warrant upon tender or deposit with the court of the full 19 rent due at any time prior to its execution, unless the petitioner
20 establishes that the tenant withheld the rent due in bad faith. Peti-21 tioner may recover by action any sum of money which was payable at the 22 time when the special proceeding was commenced and the reasonable value 23 of the use and occupation to the time when the warrant was issued, for 24 any period of time with respect to which the agreement does not make any 25 provision for payment of rent.

26 § 8. The real property law is amended by adding a new section 235-j to 27 read as follows:

28 § 235-j. Lease provisions waiving right to counsel void. Any 29 provision of a lease or contract waiving or otherwise limiting the 30 tenant's ability to obtain legal representation or legal consultation 31 under section eight hundred thirty of the executive law, as may be 32 applicable, shall be void and unenforceable.

33 § 9. Severability clause. If any provision of this act, or any appli-34 cation of any provision of this act, is held to be invalid, or to 35 violate or be inconsistent with any federal law or regulation, that 36 shall not affect the validity or effectiveness of any other provision of 37 this act, which can be given effect without that provision or applica-38 tion; and to that end, the provisions and applications of this act are 39 severable.

40 § 10. This act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day 41 after it shall have become a law; provided, however, that sections three 42 through eight of this act shall take effect three years after such date.
