1-a. The office of special investigation shall establish a demonstration project in certain counties related to incidents described in subdivision one of this section that result in serious physical injury of a person, that the attorney general determines such serious physical injury reasonably could have resulted in death, or did result in paralysis, comatose, brain damage, or any other life threatening grave bodily injury as determined by the attorney general. Such demonstration project shall be established for incidents occurring in counties not wholly contained within a city with a population as of the most recent census under one million and over four hundred thousand. The provisions of this section shall apply to the demonstration project established by this subdivision in the same manner as incidents of death of a person under the jurisdiction of the attorney general as prescribed by this section.

2. The attorney general has investigative authority and criminal jurisdiction under this section at the time of the death, or serious physical injury pursuant to subdivision one-a of this section, of the person and the attorney general retains investigative authority and criminal jurisdiction over the incident unless the attorney general determines that such incident does not meet the requirements of this section. If the attorney general determines the incident does not meet the requirements for the attorney general to have investigative authority and criminal jurisdiction pursuant to this section, the attorney general shall, as soon as practicable, provide written notice of such determination to the district attorney for the county in which the incident occurred.

§ 2. This act shall take effect January 1, 2025.
