§ 4550. Admissibility of evidence of victim's sexual conduct, sexual 4 predisposition, or manner of dress. The following evidence shall not be discoverable or admissible in a civil action or proceeding:

(a) Evidence of the victim's or alleged victim's previous sexual conduct or sexual predisposition shall not be discoverable or admitted, nor reference made to it in the presence of a jury, except as provided in this section. When a defendant seeks to discover or admit such 10 evidence for any purpose, the defendant shall apply for an order of the court. After the motion is made, the court shall conduct a hearing in camera to determine the discoverability or admissibility of such evidence. Upon the hearing and determination of such a motion, there shall be a presumption that any such reference to a victim's sexual conduct, sexual predisposition or manner of dress, is both inadmissible as evidence and not subject to disclosure. If the court finds that evidence offered by the defendant regarding the sexual conduct, sexual predisposition, or manner of dress of the victim or alleged victim is relevant and that its probative value substantially outweighs the danger 20 of harm, shame or embarrassment to any victim or alleged victim; and the 21 probative value of the evidence offered is not outweighed by its collateral nature or by the probability that its admission will create undue prejudice, confusion of the issues, or unwarranted invasion of the 24 privacy of the victim or alleged victim, or lead to harm, shame or embarrassment on the part of the victim or alleged victim; the court shall enter an order setting forth with specificity what evidence may be discovered or introduced and the nature of the questions which shall be permitted, and the reasons why the court finds that such evidence satisfies the standards contained in this section. The defendant may then discover or offer evidence under the order of the court.

- (b) Unless the court orders otherwise, the motion, related materials, and the record of the hearing under subdivision (a) of this section shall be and remain sealed.
- 10 (c) Evidence of the victim's or alleged victim's previous sexual 11 conduct shall not be discoverable or considered relevant unless it is 12 material to proving that the source of semen, pregnancy or disease is a person other than the defendant or the alleged perpetrator. For the 13 purposes of this section, "sexual conduct" shall mean any conduct or 14 15 behavior relating to sexual activities of the victim, including but not 16 limited to previous or subsequent experience of sexual penetration or 17 sexual contact, use of contraceptives, living arrangement and life 18 style.
- (d) Evidence of the manner in which the victim or alleged victim was 19 20 dressed at the time of the commission of a sexual offense or sexual 21 misconduct shall not be admitted, unless such evidence is determined by 22 the court to be relevant and admissible in the interests of justice, after an offer of proof by the proponent of such evidence outside the 23 hearing of the jury, or such hearing as the court may require, and a 24 25 statement by the court of its findings of fact essential to its determi-26 nation.
- 27 (e) The court may admit evidence of a victim's or alleged victim's
 28 reputation only if such victim or alleged victim has placed it in
 29 controversy.
- 30 § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
