The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "recovery ready workplace act".

- § 2. Legislative findings and purpose. The legislature finds that:
- 1. Recovery ready workplace (RRW) programs have been initiated around the country as important interventions in the opioid use disorder (OUD) and substance use disorder (SUD) crisis.
- 7 2. The goal of RRW programs is to provide outreach, training, and certification to employers in cooperation with government officials, 9 workers, labor unions, and communities to:
- (a) prevent initiation of new cases of misuse and addiction related to 10 11 workplace injury and stress through primary prevention of exposure to job hazards and stressors; 12
- (b) support employees who are struggling and retain employees by 14 providing access to treatment and pathways to return to work;
  - (c) provide healthy, gainful employment for people in recovery; and
  - (d) reduce absenteeism, presenteeism, and lost productivity among employees with substance use disorder.
  - 3. Workers with painful injuries have frequently been overprescribed opioids, resulting in as many as twenty-five percent of workers developing opioid dependence and OUD or SUD.
- 4. RRW programs address the prevention of addiction related to work-21 22 place injury and stress while also providing support for workers who are 23 struggling and opportunities for people in recovery to reenter the work-24 force.
- 25 5. Between 2009 to 2015, an estimated 225,000 New York workers were 26 lost from the labor market due to opioids. New York's economy cumula-27 tively lost $179.4 billion dollars in real economic output, which trans-28 lates to the state's annual real GDP growth rate slowing by 0.8 percent-29 age points.
