It is the policy of New York state to negotiate contracts for architectural and/or engineering services and/or surveying services on the 10 basis of demonstrated competence and qualification for the type of professional services required and at fair and reasonable fees.

the procurement of architectural, engineering and surveying 13 services, the corporation is required to encourage professional firms 14 engaged in the lawful practice of the profession to submit an annual statement of qualifications and performance data. The corporation for 15 each proposed project is required to evaluate current statements of 16 qualifications and performance data on file with the corporation. If desired, the corporation may conduct discussions with three or more professional firms regarding anticipated design concepts and proposed 20 methods of approach to the assignment. The corporation is required to 21 select, in order of preference, based upon criteria established by the corporation, no less than three professional firms deemed to be the most 23 highly qualified to provide the services required.

Every corporation is required to negotiate a contract with the highest 24 25 qualified professional firm for architectural and/or engineering services and/or surveying services at compensation which the corporation determines in writing to be fair and reasonable to such corporation. In making this decision, the corporation is required to take into account the estimated value of the services to be rendered, including the costs, the scope, complexity and professional nature thereof.

The corporation shall not refuse to negotiate with a professional firm 7 solely because the ratio of the "allowable indirect costs" to direct labor costs of the professional firm or the hourly labor rate in any 8 labor category of the professional firm exceeds a limitation generally 9 10 set by the corporation in the determination of the reasonableness of the 11 estimated cost of services to be rendered by the professional firm, but 12 rather the corporation should also consider the reasonableness of cost based on the total estimated cost of the service of the professional 13 firm which should include, among other things, all the direct labor 14 15 costs of the professional firm for such services plus all "allowable 16 indirect costs," other direct costs, and negotiated profit of the 17 professional firm. "Allowable indirect costs" of a professional firm are defined as those costs generally associated with overhead which cannot 18 be specifically identified with a single project or contract and are 19 20 considered reasonable and allowable under specific state contract or 21 allowability limits. Should the corporation choose to engage in a qual-22 ification based procurement and be unable to negotiate a satisfactory 23 contract with the professional firm considered to be the most qualified, at a fee the corporation determines to be fair and reasonable to the 24 25 corporation, negotiations with that professional firm shall be formally terminated. The corporation shall then undertake negotiations with the 26 27 second most qualified professional firm. Failing accord with the second 28 most qualified professional firm, the corporation shall formally terminate negotiations. The corporation shall then undertake negotiations 29 with the third most qualified professional firm. Should the corporation 30 31 be unable to negotiate a satisfactory contract with any of the selected professional firms, it shall select additional professional firms in 32 33 order of their competence and qualifications and it shall continue nego-34 tiations in accordance with this section until an agreement is reached. The provisions of this subparagraph shall only apply to engineering 35 and/or architectural services and/or surveying services in excess of 36 37 twenty-five thousand dollars and shall not apply to the metropolitan transportation authority, the New York city transit authority or the 39 Triborough bridge and tunnel authority or to any of their subsidiaries. 40
