Introduced by Sen. LIU -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Codes

AN ACT to amend the civil rights law, in relation to limiting the transport of an arrested, detained or apprehended person in an unmarked police vehicle or concealed identity police vehicle and the use of such vehicles for stops and searches

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

- 1 Section 1. The civil rights law is amended by adding a new section 73-a to read as follows:
- § 73-a. Use of unmarked police vehicle for stop and search or trans-4 port of arrested, detained or apprehended person. 1. No person shall be transported in an unmarked police vehicle or a concealed identity police vehicle after being arrested, detained or apprehended by a police offi-7 cer or peace officer of a governmental entity who is not wearing his or her police uniform unless an officer in uniform from the same governmental entity is present for the duration of the transport. 9

- 2. No person shall be stopped and searched by a police officer or peace officer of a governmental entity who is travelling in an unmarked police vehicle or a concealed identity police vehicle unless such officer is wearing his or her police uniform or is accompanied by an officer 14 in uniform from the same governmental entity and such uniformed officer is present for the duration of the stop and the search.
- 3. A police vehicle shall be deemed to be unmarked or have a concealed 16 17 identity unless it is equipped with:
- 18 (a) lights as authorized by subdivision forty-one of section three 19 hundred seventy-five of the vehicle and traffic law, which are displayed 20 and visible;
- (b) a horn, siren, electronic device, or exhaust whistle from which 21 22 audible signals are sounded; and

1 (c) an insignia identifying such vehicle as a police vehicle as 2 defined by this section.

4. Upon a violation of this section, an application may be made by the 3 4 attorney general in the name of the people of the state of New York to a 5 court or justice having jurisdiction by a special proceeding to issue an injunction and, upon at least five days notice to the defendant, to 7 enjoin and restrain the continuance of such violations. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court or justice that the defendant 9 has violated this section, an injunction may be issued by the court or 10 justice, enjoining and restraining any further violations, without 11 requiring proof that any person has, in fact, been injured or damaged 12 thereby. In any such proceeding, the court may make allowances to the attorney general as provided in paragraph six of subdivision (a) of 13 section eighty-three hundred three of the civil practice law and rules, 14 15 and direct restitution. In connection with any such proposed application, the attorney general is authorized to take proof and make a deter-16 17 mination of the relevant facts and to issue subpoenas in accordance with the civil practice law and rules. 18
