AN ACT to require the department of environmental conservation to conduct a study on the feasibility of constructing a seawall along the coastline of the city of New York; and providing for the repeal of such provisions upon expiration thereof

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. New York seawall study. No later than December 31, 2027, 2 the department of environmental conservation shall transmit to the 3 governor, the temporary president of the senate and the speaker of the 4 assembly a report identifying the feasibility, costs, impacts, and best
5 locations for construction of a seawall to protect the city of New York 6 from sea level rise and storm surge along the entire coastline. The 7 report shall contain the following:
8 (a) coastal areas at greatest risk from sea level rise based on 9 projections established pursuant to section 3-0319 of the environmental 10 conservation law;
11 (b) areas at risk from storm surge based on current sea levels;
12 (c) areas that are more likely to be at risk from coastal hazards
13 including rising groundwater levels, saltwater intrusion, coastal flood-14 ing, and extreme weather events including coastal storms, with such 15 projections extending through the year 2100;
16 (d) the locations for construction of a seawall and any communities
17 likely to be at risk from such construction;
18 (e) the feasibility, costs and locations of natural and nature-based 19 solutions and onshore measures to protect New York city from sea level 20 rise and storm surge;

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.
