Introduced by Sen. BAILEY -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Consumer Protection

AN ACT to amend the general business law, in relation to requiring businesses which provide for someone to spoof a telephone number to keep certain records

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The general business law is amended by adding a new section 399-rr to read as follows:

§ 399-rr. Telephone number spoofing recordkeeping. 1. For the purposes of this section, "spoofing of a telephone number" shall mean having the caller information displayed on a caller identification device be information other than that of the actual telephone number being used to place the call.

2. Every business which provides for the spoofing of a telephone number shall keep a record of the calls placed using its services including, but not limited to:

(a) the phone number that would be displayed on the caller identification device of the person receiving the phone call;

(b) the telephone number or internet protocol address of the device placing the telephone call; and

(c) the time, date, and duration of the telephone call.

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall have become a law.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.
