IN SENATE

January 26, 2023

Introduced by Sens. BROUK, ADDABBO, HELMING, HOYLMAN-SIGAL -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Education

AN ACT to amend the education law and the social services law, in relation to the practice of school psychology

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Legislative intent and findings. The legislature finds that the ever-growing social and emotional needs of children and youth 2 3 have only been intensified by the COVID-19 pandemic. The legislature acknowledges that the U.S. Surgeon General has declared a national emergency in relation to children's mental health, and that parents and professionals are calling for greater access to mental health services for children. The legislature therefore intends, as we emerge from the pandemic, that we ensure services are available for children, youth, and their parents to seek the help they need by allowing school psychol-10 ogists to assist these individuals outside of a traditional setting. The 11 legislature finds that increasing the number of trained professionals 12 who are able to provide mental health services outside of an educational 13 setting will be positive for the children, parents, school, and society. 14 School psychologists are trained and educated in psychopathology, the psychology of learning, motivation and human development in order to address the many factors influencing their adjustment in school and life. Accordingly, these factors may include trauma, social and 16 17 emotional adjustment, inequitable and historically marginalized communi-18 19 ty conditions, school climate, and home/school/community collaboration. 20 The legislature therefore declares that by addressing the needs of chil-21 dren through prevention services, assessments and/or counseling, school 22 psychologists can contribute to their future success. It is important that school psychologists are held to specific standards and require-24 ments that will ensure competent services.
