Introduced by Sen. FERNANDEZ -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Judiciary -- committee discharged, bill amended, ordered reprinted as amended and recommitted to said committee

AN ACT to amend the judiciary law and the executive law, in relation to domestic violence training for judges, court clerks and law enforcement officers

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. The judiciary law is amended by adding a new section 39-c
2 to read as follows:

3 § 39-c. Domestic violence training. 1. Each judge or justice in a 4 court that exercises criminal jurisdiction, including town and village 5 justices, each judge of the family court, each justice of the supreme 6 court who regularly handles matrimonial matters, and each court clerk of 7 such courts, shall attend for no less than ten hours every two years, a 8 program or programs approved by the chief administrator of the courts
9 addressing issues relating to domestic violence. Such program or 10 programs shall include, but shall not be limited to:

11 (a) information about the specific needs of victims;

12 (b) the nature, extent, and dynamics of domestic violence, including 13 emotional, economic, physical, technological, and sexual abuse;

14 (c) a review of the coercive tactics abusers use to induce fear in 15 their victims;

16 (d) education on the increased vulnerability of certain populations,
17 based on factors such as race, immigration status, gender identity,
18 income, or any other factor deemed relevant, and culturally responsive 19 approaches to serving victims;

20 (e) a review of relevant domestic violence and child abuse statutes
21 and case law;

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD07123-03-3

1 (f) information regarding the increased risk of escalating violence
2 that occurs during court proceedings or when a victim attempts to leave
3 an abuser and procedures designed to promote the safety of the victim
4 and other household members;

5 (g) knowledge of trauma and its effects on adult and child victims;

6 (h) the lethality and risk of domestic violence;

7 (i) providing methods to increase information sharing and cooperation
8 among court departments in combating domestic abuse;

9 (j) information regarding available community resources and victims'
10 services;

11 (k) legal remedies for protection;

12 (l) the harm courts may cause victims by separating children from 13 their primary attachment figure, failing to prioritize the safety of 14 children and non-offending parents, seeking to award custody to both 15 parents despite the presence of domestic violence or child abuse, or 16 relying on faulty assumptions regarding domestic violence that have been 17 rejected by reputable professional organizations, such as, but not 18 limited to: (i) the assumption that women or children frequently make 19 false allegations of abuse, (ii) the assumption that a parent's efforts 20 to protect a child from abuse by another parent is evidence of unwill-21 ingness or inability to cooperate with that parent, (iii) the assumption 22 that one parent alienates a child from the other parent due to a patho-
23 logical medical syndrome, and (iv) in cases involving domestic violence 24 or child abuse, the assumption that one parent can and should support a 25 child's relationship with the other parent; and

26 (m) the appropriate experience and qualifications for child custody 27 evaluators and expert witnesses involved in court proceedings in which 28 domestic violence has been alleged.

29 2. Such program or programs shall be developed and delivered in coor-30 ordination with an organization designated by the federal department of 31 health and human services to coordinate statewide improvements within 32 local communities, social service systems and programming regarding the 33 prevention and intervention of domestic violence in New York state and 34 the office for the prevention of domestic violence.

35 3. Attendance at such program or programs shall be counted toward 36 fulfillment of the training and education requirements for justices, 37 judges, and court clerks established by the chief administrator of the 38 courts.

39 § 2. Section 837 of the executive law is amended by adding a new 40 subdivision 24 to read as follows:

41 24. Require that law enforcement officers shall attend for no less 42 than ten hours every two years, a program or programs developed by the 43 office for the prevention of domestic violence and approved by the divi-44 sion addressing issues relating to domestic violence.

45 § 3. This act shall take effect immediately.
