health or safety, which has existed for five days, or any combination of such conditions in any apartments in the subject building, a landlord may commence a proceeding under this subdivision by filing, with the petition and notice of petition prescribed by section seven hundred thirty-one of this article, an affidavit including facts establishing that said violation or violations were recorded erroneously or that a state, city or local agency, authority or department erroneously failed to remove said violation or violations. A proceeding under this subdivision cannot be maintained if the court finds that the allegations in said affidavit are untrue or if the court finds that at the time of commencement of the proceeding there were violations of any applicable state, city or local codes relating to housing maintenance or housing standards or contraventions of section two hundred thirty-five-b of the real property law, in the subject apartment or in the common areas of the subject building, or extremely hazardous violations in any apartments in the subject building. Any person succeeding to the landlord's interest in the premises may proceed under this subdivision for rent due his predecessor in interest if he has a right thereto. Where a tenant dies during the term of the lease and rent due has not been paid and the apartment is occupied by a person with a claim to possession, a proceeding may be commenced naming the occupants of the apartment seeking a possessory judgment only as against the estate. Entry of such a judgment shall be without prejudice to the possessory claims of the occupants, and any warrant issued shall not be effective as against the occupants.

§ 2. Section 741 of the real property actions and proceedings law is amended by adding a new subdivision 3-a to read as follows:

3-a. State that at the time of commencement of the proceeding there are no violations of any applicable state, city or local codes relating to housing maintenance or housing standards, and no conditions that contravene section two hundred thirty-five-b of the real property law, in the subject apartment or in the common areas of the subject building, and no extremely hazardous violations in any apartments in the subject building, or state that an affidavit has been filed as prescribed by section seven hundred eleven of this article.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately.
