the defendant in writing that such information has not been disclosed, unless the court rules otherwise for good cause shown.

- § 2. Subdivision 4 of section 245.70 of the criminal procedure law, as added by section 2 of part LLL of chapter 59 of the laws of 2019, is amended to read as follows:
- 4. Showing of good cause. In determining good cause under this section 7 the court may consider: constitutional rights or limitations; danger to 8 the integrity of physical evidence or the safety of a witness; risk of 9 intimidation, economic reprisal, bribery, harassment or unjustified 10 annoyance or embarrassment to any person, and the nature, severity and likelihood of that risk; a risk of an adverse effect upon the legitimate 11 12 needs of law enforcement, ambulance services or advanced life support first response services, certified first responders, firefighters, emer-13 14 gency medical technicians or advanced emergency medical technicians, who 15 are employed by or enrolled members of any such service, including the protection of the confidentiality of informants, and the nature, severi-16 17 ty and likelihood of that risk; the nature and circumstances of the factual allegations in the case; whether the defendant has a history of 18 19 witness intimidation or tampering and the nature of that history; the nature of the stated reasons in support of a protective order; the 20 21 nature of the witness identifying information that is sought to be addressed by a protective order, including the option of employing adequate alternative contact information; danger to any person stemming 23 from factors such as a defendant's substantiated affiliation with a 24 criminal enterprise as defined in subdivision three of section 460.10 of 25 the penal law; and other similar factors found to outweigh the useful-26 27 ness of the discovery.
- 28 § 3. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall 29 have become a law.
