his or her own recognizance, released under conditions, or had yet to be arraigned after the issuance of a desk appearance ticket for a separate felony or class A misdemeanor involving harm to an identifiable person 4 or property, or any charge of criminal possession of a firearm as 5 defined in section 265.01-b of the penal law, provided, however, that the prosecutor must show reasonable cause to believe that the defendant 7 committed the instant crime and any underlying crime. For the purposes of this [subparagraph] paragraph, any of the underlying crimes need not 9 be a qualifying offense as defined in this subdivision. For the purposes 10 of this paragraph, "harm to an identifiable person or property" 11 include but not be limited to theft of or damage to property. However, 12 based upon a review of the facts alleged in the accusatory instrument, the court determines that such theft is negligible and does not 13 appear to be in furtherance of other criminal activity, the principal 14 15 shall be released on his or her own recognizance or under appropriate 16 non-monetary conditions; [ex]

(u) criminal possession of a weapon in the third degree as defined in subdivision three of section 265.02 of the penal law or criminal sale of a firearm to a minor as defined in section 265.16 of the penal law[ $_{\mathbf{v}}$ ]; or

(v) tampering with electronic monitoring equipment as defined in section 145.75 of the penal law.

§ 3. Subparagraphs (xx) and (xxi) of paragraph (b) of subdivision 1 of section 530.20 of the criminal procedure law, subparagraph (xx) as amended and subparagraph (xxi) as added by section 4 of subpart C of part UU of chapter 56 of the laws of 2022, are amended and a new subparagraph (xxii) is added to read as follows:

(xx) any felony or class A misdemeanor involving harm to an identifiable person or property, or any charge of criminal possession of a firearm as defined in section 265.01-b of the penal law where such charge arose from conduct occurring while the defendant was released on his or her own recognizance, released under conditions, or had yet to be arraigned after the issuance of a desk appearance ticket for a separate felony or class A misdemeanor involving harm to an identifiable person or property, provided, however, that the prosecutor must show reasonable cause to believe that the defendant committed the instant crime and any underlying crime. For the purposes of this subparagraph, any of underlying crimes need not be a qualifying offense as defined in this subdivision. For the purposes of this paragraph, "harm to an identifiable person or property" shall include but not be limited to theft of or damage to property. However, based upon a review of the facts alleged in the accusatory instrument, if the court determines that such theft is negligible and does not appear to be in furtherance of other criminal activity, the principal shall be released on his or her own recognizance or under appropriate non-monetary conditions; [ex]

(xxi) criminal possession of a weapon in the third degree as defined in subdivision three of section 265.02 of the penal law or criminal sale of a firearm to a minor as defined in section 265.16 of the penal law[-]; or

(xxii) tampering with electronic monitoring equipment as defined in section 145.75 of the penal law.

§ 4. Paragraphs (t) and (u) of subdivision 4 of section 530.40 of the criminal procedure law, paragraph (t) as amended and paragraph (u) as added by section 4 of subpart B of part UU of chapter 56 of the laws of 2022, are amended and a new paragraph (v) is added to read as follows:

(t) any felony or class A misdemeanor involving harm to an identifiable person or property, or any charge of criminal possession of a firearm as defined in section 265.01-b of the penal law, where such charge arose from conduct occurring while the defendant was released on his or her own recognizance, released under conditions, or had yet to be arraigned after the issuance of a desk appearance ticket for a separate 7 felony or class A misdemeanor involving harm to an identifiable person or property, or any charge of criminal possession of a firearm as 9 defined in section 265.01-b of the penal law, provided, however, that 10 the prosecutor must show reasonable cause to believe that the defendant 11 committed the instant crime and any underlying crime. For the purposes of this [subparagraph] paragraph, any of the underlying crimes need not 13 be a qualifying offense as defined in this subdivision. For the purposes 14 of this paragraph, "harm to an identifiable person or property" shall 15 include but not be limited to theft of or damage to property. However, based upon a review of the facts alleged in the accusatory instrument, 16 17 if the court determines that such theft is negligible and does not appear to be in furtherance of other criminal activity, the principal 18 19 shall be released on his or her own recognizance or under appropriate 20 non-monetary conditions; [ex]

(u) criminal possession of a weapon in the third degree as defined in subdivision three of section 265.02 of the penal law or criminal sale of a firearm to a minor as defined in section 265.16 of the penal law[+]; or

25 (v) tampering with electronic monitoring equipment as defined in 26 section 145.75 of the penal law.

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately.
