AN ACT to amend the real property law, in relation to prohibiting the termination of tenancy in certain housing occupied by senior citizens and/or persons with disabilities

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The real property law is amended by adding a new section 228-a to read as follows:

§ 228-a. Tenancy in rental buildings; senior citizens; persons with disabilities. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section two hundred twenty-eight of this article or any other provision to the contrary, if substantially all of the lessees or tenants occupying units in a rental building are over sixty-five years of age and/or are persons with disabilities, the lessor may not terminate or fail to renew a lease for premises in such building or terminate a tenancy at will or at sufferance, except for cause involving actions of the tenant that violate the terms of the lease, such as the non-payment of rent, without the prior approval of a court of competent jurisdiction. In determining whether to grant approval, the court shall consider factors including: whether the lessor is operating the rental building at a profit or loss; the need for any major capital repairs or improvements that cannot be performed while the tenants are in occupancy; any written or oral representations made by the lessor to tenants about how long they could remain in occupancy; any alternative housing being offered by the lessor, the number of affected tenants; and the length of time the affected tenants have lived in their apartments. At the time of filing any action affecting more than one lease and seeking such prior approval from a court of competent jurisdiction, the lessor shall notify all the lessees and tenants occupying units in the rental building that are over sixty-five years of age and/or are persons with disabilities of the filing of such action. The lessor shall also notify at such time any village, town, city and county, except counties inside the city of New York, in which such rental building is located of the filing of such
