2023-2024 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

April 12, 2023

Introduced by M. of A. BYRNES -- read once and referred to the Committee on Governmental Employees

AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to allowing for certain members of a public retirement system of the state to apply for credit for military service

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 1000 of the retirement and social security law is amended by adding a new subdivision 5-a to read as follows:

5-a. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision five of this section, a member, who is ineligible to receive the credit allowed pursuant to this section solely because such member retired on or before May thirty-first, two thousand sixteen, shall be eligible to receive the credit allowed pursuant to this section if such member makes application for such credit on or before December thirty-first, two thousand twenty-four. The service credit available pursuant to this subdivision shall, when calculated, apply only to benefits received by the member after the date such member makes application for such credit and no retroactive benefit payments shall be made to such applicant pursuant to this subdivision. To obtain credit pursuant to this subdivision, a member shall pay such retirement system, for deposit in the fund used to accumulate employer contributions, a sum equal to the product of the number of years of military service being claimed and three percent of such member's compensation earned during the last twelve consecutive months of credited service preceding the date that the member retired.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

This bill would allow members who retired on or before May 31, 2016 to apply to receive military service credit pursuant to §1000 of the Retirement and Social Security Law. Application must be made on or before December 31, 2024. If approved, the retirement benefit will be recalculated as of the date of application and no retroactive benefits will be paid. Retirees would be required to pay a sum equal to the product of number of years of military service granted times three percent (3%) of compensation earned during the last twelve consecutive months of credited service preceding the date of retirement. Such retiree may receive up to three (3) years of service credit for their military service.

Insofar as this proposal affects the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement Systems (NYSLERS) and the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System (NYSLPFRS), if enacted during the 2023 legislative session, the cost will depend upon the applicant's age, service, salary, plan, and benefit type payable. For each year of additional service credit that is purchased, it is estimated that the past service cost will average:

approximately 13% of affected retiree's final average salary in the NYSLERS, and approximately 17% of affected retiree's final average salary in the NYSLPFRS.

The number of retirees who could be affected by this legislation cannot be readily determined. A precise cost cannot be calculated until each retiree applies for the service credit.

Pursuant to Section 25 of the Retirement and Social Security Law, those costs arising in the NYSLERS would be borne solely by the State of New York. After the application deadline, a precise cost will be determined (and billed to the State) based on those benefiting from this provision.

Those costs arising in the NYSLPFRS would be shared by the State of New York and the participating employers in the NYSLPFRS and would be spread over future billing cycles.

Further, we anticipate some administrative costs to implement the provisions of this legislation.
