- a. In 2014, potential contaminants, including Per- and Polyfluoroalkyl 3 Substances (PFAS) were detected in Lake Washington, the primary source for the drinking water supply for the City of Newburgh in Orange County, New York ("the City"). At the time, the level of contamination was at 170 ppt, below the 400 ppt limit then recommended by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"). When the EPA set a new level of 70 ppt for short-term exposure in May 2016, the City manager declared an emergency.
- 10 b. The source of contamination was determined to be PFOS- and 11 PFAS-containing firefighting foam used at Stewart Air National Guard 12 Base for training and emergency purposes. In August 2016, Stewart Air 13 National Guard Base was designated as a state Superfund site to hold the 14 U.S. Department of Defense responsible for full site clean-up.
- c. New York State stepped in to assist with and fund the City's water 16 supply hookup to Brown's Pond and then to the Catskill Aqueduct for a longer term, temporary water source. The State also constructed a granular activated carbon treatment facility ("GAC system") at the City's water filtration plant to remove PFAS from the water in Washington Lake. The GAC system became operational in 2018.
- 21 d. The City's water filtration plants and the GAC system are located 22 outside the municipal boundaries of the City in the towns of Newburgh 23 and New Windsor in Orange County. Both the county and the town of 24 Newburgh have exempted the City's water supply plants from real property 25 taxation. The City pays real property taxes annually to the town of New Windsor, and to the Newburgh Enlarged City School District and the Cornwall Central School District.

- e. Following the construction of the GAC system, the town of New Windsor reassessed the value of the City's water filtration plant in light of the constructed improvements. The reassessment resulted in a substantial increase in the property tax value and, thus, in taxes. The taxes for the Newburgh Enlarged City School District alone rose from $49,604.25 during the 2016-2017 tax assessment year to $303,046.59 during the 2018-2019 tax assessment year, an increase of nearly $250,000.00.
- 11 f. The City has commenced tax certiorari proceedings in the Supreme 12 Court of the State of New York, County of Orange for the 2017-2018 and 2018-2019 tax assessment years bearing Orange County Index 13 14 EF005922-2017 and EF007932-2018. The City was required to produce a 15 trial-ready property appraisal in September 2019, but those proceedings were adjourned to May 2020, and no appraisal was filed as a result of 16 17 the COVID-19 pandemic and related restrictions that closed or significantly curtailed the operation of the New York state court system. 18 During the time such court operations were limited, the City continued 19 20 to protect its interests by filing tax certiorari proceedings for the 21 subsequent years 2019-2020 and 2020-2021 under Orange County Index Nos. EF005909-2019 and EF003957-2020. The City will have to undertake significant additional expenses to resolve the aforementioned tax certiorari 23 proceedings if the tax relief sought cannot be obtained by legislative 24 25 action.
 - g. But for the PFAS contamination of the City's water supply, the construction of the GAC system as an improvement to the City's water filtration plant property would have been unnecessary. The construction of the GAC system has resulted in unbudgeted and unforeseen costs and expenses to the City through no fault of its own.
- § 2. a. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 406 of the real property tax law or any other law, rule or regulation, the City of Newburgh shall be entitled to a partial exemption from real property taxes imposed by the town of New Windsor, the Newburgh Enlarged City School District and the Cornwall Central School District. Such exemption shall be granted to the extent of the increase in the assessment of the water filtration plant property attributable to the construction of the GAC system.
- 39 b. As a condition of such exemption, the City shall withdraw and 40 discontinue all of its tax certiorari proceedings against the town of 41 New Windsor.
- c. The town of New Windsor, the Newburgh Enlarged City School District and the Cornwall Central School District shall make appropriate corrections to the subject rolls, provide for the refund of those taxes paid and cancel any taxes, fines, penalties, interest or tax liens remaining unpaid.
 - § 3. This act shall take effect immediately.
