§ 4. Subdivision 5 of section 70.00 of the penal law, as amended by section 40-a of part WWW of chapter 59 of the laws of 2017, is amended to read as follows:

- Life imprisonment without parole. Notwithstanding any other 4 5 provision of law, a defendant sentenced to life imprisonment without parole shall not be or become eligible for parole or conditional release. For purposes of commitment and custody, other than parole and 7 conditional release, such sentence shall be deemed to be an indetermi-9 nate sentence. A defendant may be sentenced to life imprisonment without 10 parole upon conviction for the crime of murder in the first degree as defined in section 125.27 of this chapter and in accordance with the procedures provided by law for imposing a sentence for such crime. A defendant who was eighteen years of age or older at the time of the 13 commission of the crime must be sentenced to life imprisonment without 15 parole upon conviction for the crime of terrorism as defined in section 16 490.25 of this chapter, where the specified offense the defendant 17 committed is a class A-I felony; the crime of criminal possession of a 18 chemical weapon or biological weapon in the first degree as defined in 19 section 490.45 of this chapter; or the crime of criminal use of a chemical weapon or biological weapon in the first degree as defined in 20 21 section 490.55 of this chapter; provided, however, that nothing in this subdivision shall preclude or prevent a sentence of death when the 23 defendant is also convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree 24 as defined in section 125.27 of this chapter. A defendant who was seven-25 teen years of age or younger at the time of the commission of the crime 26 may be sentenced, in accordance with law, to the applicable indetermi-27 nate sentence with a maximum term of life imprisonment. A defendant must 28 be sentenced to life imprisonment without parole upon conviction for the 29 crime of murder in the second degree as defined in subdivision five of 30 section 125.25 of this chapter or for the crime of aggravated murder as 31 defined in subdivision one of section 125.26 of this chapter. A defend-32 ant may be sentenced to life imprisonment without parole upon conviction for the crime of aggravated murder as defined in subdivision two of 34 section 125.26 of this chapter or for the crime of murder in the first degree as defined in subparagraph (i), (ii), (ii-a), (iii), (viii), 35 36 (xi), (xiii), or (xiv) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section 37 125.27 of this chapter and the sentence of death is not imposed.
 - § 5. Subdivisions 1 and 10 of section 400.27 of the criminal procedure law, as added by chapter 1 of the laws of 1995, are amended to read as follows:
 - 1. Upon [the] conviction of a defendant for the offense of murder in the first degree as defined by subparagraph (i), (ii), (ii-a), (iii), (viii), (xi), (xiii), or (xiv) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section 125.27 of the penal law, the court shall promptly conduct a separate sentencing proceeding to determine whether the defendant shall be sentenced to death or to life imprisonment without parole pursuant to subdivision five of section 70.00 of the penal law. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to preclude the people at any time from determining that the death penalty shall not be sought in a particular case, in which case the separate sentencing proceeding shall not be conducted and the court may sentence such defendant to life imprisonment without parole [or to a sentence of imprisonment for the class A-I felony of murder in the first degree other than a sentence of life imprisonment without parole].
- 10. (a) At the conclusion of all the evidence, the people and the defendant may present argument in summation for or against the sentence sought by the people. The people may deliver the first summation and the defendant may then deliver the last summation. Thereafter, the court shall deliver a charge to the jury on any matters appropriate in the circumstances. In its charge, the court must instruct the jury that with 5 respect to each count of murder in the first degree, as defined in subparagraph (i), (ii), (ii-a), (iii), (viii), (xi), (xiii), or (xiv) of 7 paragraph (a) of subdivision one of section 125.27 of the penal law, the jury should consider whether or not a sentence of death should be 8 9 imposed and whether or not a sentence of life imprisonment without 10 parole should be imposed[, and that the jury must be unanimous with respect to either sentence. The court must also instruct the jury that 11 in the event the jury fails to reach unanimous agreement with respect to 12 the sentence, the court will sentence the defendant to a term of impri-13 sonment with a minimum term of between twenty and twenty-five years and 14 15 a maximum term of life. Following the court's charge, the jury shall retire to consider the sentence to be imposed. Unless inconsistent with 16 the provisions of this section, the provisions of sections 310.10, 310.20 and 310.30 shall govern the deliberations of the jury]. 17 18

- (b) The court must instruct the jury that the jury must be unanimous with respect to the sentence to be imposed. The court must also instruct the jury that in the event the jury fails to reach unanimous agreement with respect to the sentence, the court will sentence the defendant to a term of life imprisonment without parole.
- 24 (c) Following the court's charge, the jury shall retire to consider 25 the sentence to be imposed. Unless inconsistent with the provisions of 26 this section, the provisions of sections 310.10, 310.20 and 310.30 of 27 this part shall govern the deliberations of the jury.
- 28 § 6. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to 29 offenses committed on or after such effective date.
