2023-2024 Regular Sessions

IN SENATE

January 27, 2023

Introduced by Sens. KRUEGER, COMRIE, LIU, PARKER, RAMOS, SANDERS -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Investigations and Government Operations

AN ACT to amend the public officers law, the arts and cultural affairs law, the executive law and the legislative law, in relation to the retention of state electronic records; to repeal subdivision 1 of section 88 of the public officers law, relating to rules and regulations governing access to state legislative records; to repeal section 5 of the executive law, relating to executive records; and to repeal section 70-0113 of the environmental conservation law, relating to information confidentially disclosed by applicants

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Legislative intent. The legislature finds that procedures
2 and practice that promote transparency and accountability in the execu-
3 tive and legislative branches serve the public interest and encourage 4 public faith in government. Government policies which allow for the 5 destruction of emails and other electronic governmental records and 6 exempt the legislature from the Freedom of Information Law (FOIL) run
7 counter to these principles of transparency and accountability.

8 Computers and other electronic devices create many of the new records
9 we use today, most commonly via email. These records, although electron-
10 ic in format, are the same as records produced in other formats. Elec-11 tronic records show how one conducts business, makes decisions, and 12 carries out the people's work. They are evidence of decisions and 13 actions. Fundamental records management principles should apply to 14 electronic records, as they apply to any record formats.

15 The executive branch has adopted a policy allowing automatic deletion 16 of emails after 90 days, which has the potential to severely limit the 17 public availability of vital information regarding the operations of 18 agencies. The consequences of such a policy are illustrated in a 2015

1 judicial proceeding where the former Deputy Secretary for Gaming and 2 Racing indicated he was "aghast" to find that emails dating from 2013
3 relevant to the case had been deleted. The deletion of these emails
4 undermines the ability of the plaintiff in the case to seek redress. An 5 administration spokesman defended deletion of the emails on the ground
6 they had not been the subject of a FOIL request.

7 This legislation would ensure that under the guidance of the State
8 Archives, agencies and legislative bodies must take a proactive approach
9 to the preservation of electronic records. It would establish strict 10 standards for permanent preservation of the records of policymakers, and 11 prohibit deletion of emails from government officials for at least seven
12 years. It is modeled on federal policies adopted after extensive study
13 of appropriate practices for handling electronic records. The state
14 already uses email management software that would enable implementation
15 of such a policy at minimal cost.

16 Moreover, the exemption of the legislature from presumption of access 17 in the Freedom of Information Law also undermines transparency and 18 accountability. The public should have access to the same types of 19 information from the legislature that it can already access from the 20 Executive Branch and local government agencies through the FOIL process.
21 Recent scandals involving individual legislators only highlight the need 22 for increasing the availability of information regarding legislative 23 records. This act would establish the same standards for treating the 24 Executive and Legislative branches under FOIL. This act would also 25 extend to the legislature the various exemptions from disclosure in the 26 FOIL law, including records that would compromise personal privacy
27 rights or that are related to internal deliberations of the body or 28 agency.

29 § 2. Subdivision 3 of section 86 of the public officers law, as added
30 by chapter 933 of the laws of 1977, is amended and a new subdivision 12
31 is added to read as follows:

32 3. "Agency" means any state or municipal department, board, bureau,
33 division, commission, committee, public authority, public corporation,
34 council, office or other governmental entity performing a governmental 35 or proprietary function for the state or any one or more municipalities
36 thereof, except the judiciary [~~or the state legislature~~].

37 12. "Archives" means any institution as defined by section 57.05 of 38 the arts and cultural affairs law.

39 § 3. Subdivision 1 of section 88 of the public officers law is
40 REPEALED.

41 § 4. The public officers law is amended by adding a new section 88-a 42 to read as follows:

43 § 88-a. Electronic records retention. 1. Each state agency, as 44 defined by paragraph (b) of subdivision four of section eighty-seven of 45 the public officers law, and the state legislature in conjunction with 46 the state archives, shall preserve electronic records in accordance with 47 the provisions of this section.

48 2. Each agency shall identify the accounts of policy makers subject to 49 the provisions of this article. For the purpose of this section, "poli-50 cy maker" means any statewide elected official, state officer or employ-51 ee, member of the legislature, or legislative employee subject to 52 section seventy-three-a of the public officers law.

53 3. (a) The provisions of this section and article six of this chapter
54 shall apply to all email accounts of any policy maker, including 55 accounts managed by other staff, including, but not limited to personal 56 assistants, confidential assistants, or administrative assistants.

(b) The provisions of this section and of article six of this chapter shall apply to all email accounts of any policy maker, regardless of the address names used by the public official for agency business.

4. Electronic records shall be maintained in accordance with the following general records retention schedule:

(a) Email and other electronic records of policy makers. Agencies shall transfer documentation adequate to identify, service, and interpret the permanent electronic records, which includes the position title and begin and end dates for each email account captured in this subdivision. The disposition of electronic records described in this paragraph is permanent. Such electronic records shall be transferred to the state archives no sooner than fifteen years after the date of the creation of the electronic record and no later than twenty-five years after the creation of the electronic record.

(b) Email and other electronic records of other officials. Agencies shall transfer documentation adequate to identify, service, and interpret the permanent electronic records, which includes the position title and begin and end dates for each email account captured in this subdivision. The disposition of electronic records described in this paragraph is temporary. Such electronic records shall be transferred to the state archives no sooner than seven years after the date of creation of the electronic record, provided, however, that longer retention is authorized if required for business use by the agency.

5. Production of electronic records by agencies shall comply with the following provisions:

(a) Agencies shall transfer to the state archives documentation adequate to identify, service, and interpret the permanent electronic records.

(b) Documentation for data files and data bases must include record layouts, data element definitions, and code translation tables (code-books) for coded data. Data element definitions, codes used to represent data values, and interpretations of these codes must match the actual format and codes as transferred.

(c) Digital geospatial data files must include the documentation specified in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. In addition, documentation for digital geospatial data files can include metadata that conforms to the Federal Geographic Data Committee's Content Standards for Digital Geospatial Metadata, as specified in Executive Order 12906 of April 11, 1994 (3 CFR, 1995 Comp., p. 882).

(d) Documentation for electronic files containing textual documents with SGML tags must include a table for interpreting the SGML tags, when appropriate.

(e) Documentation for the following types of electronic records must conform to formats specified in National Archives and Records Administration Bulletin 2014-04; Appendix A: Revised Format Guidance for the Transfer of Permanent Electronic Records. Tables of File Formats; provided, however, that the state archive may approve additional acceptable file formats:

- (i) email messages with attachments;
- (ii) scanned images of textual records;
- (iii) records in portable document format (PDF);
- (iv) digital photographic records; and
- (v) web content records.

6. (a) Any aggrieved person shall have standing to enforce the provisions of this section by the commencement of a proceeding pursuant to article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules, or an action for declaratory judgment and injunctive relief. In any such action or proceeding, if a court determines that an agency failed to comply with the provisions of this section, the court shall have the power, in its discretion, upon good cause shown, to declare that the agency violated the provisions of this section. If the court determines that an agency has violated the provisions of this section, the court may require the members of the agency to participate in a training session concerning the obligations imposed by this section conducted by the staff of the state archives.

(b) In any proceeding brought pursuant to this section, costs and reasonable attorney's fees may be awarded by the court, in its discretion, to the successful party. If a court determines that an electronic record was not retained in material violation of this article, the court shall award costs and reasonable attorney's fees to the successful petitioner, unless there was a reasonable basis for the agency to believe that it acted in compliance with the provisions of this section.

(c) The statute of limitations in an article seventy-eight proceeding with respect to an action taken at executive session shall commence to run from the date the electronic record at issue has been made available to the public.

7. Nothing in this section shall bar an employee of an agency from maintaining a record slated for destruction under the retention schedules developed pursuant to section 57.06 of the arts and cultural affairs law, if such record is relevant to an ongoing matter and such disclosure would not violate any privilege or confidentiality interest.

§ 5. Subparagraphs vii and viii of paragraph (b) of subdivision 2 of section 89 of the public officers law, as amended by section 2 of part GGG of chapter 59 of the laws of 2019, are amended and a new subparagraph ix is added to read as follows:

vii. disclosure of electronic contact information, such as an e-mail address or a social network username, that has been collected from a taxpayer under section one hundred four of the real property tax law; [✗]

viii. disclosure of law enforcement arrest or booking photographs of an individual, unless public release of such photographs will serve a specific law enforcement purpose and disclosure is not precluded by any state or federal laws[✗]; and

ix. communications of a personal nature between state legislators and their constituents.

§ 6. The arts and cultural affairs law is amended by adding a new section 57.06 to read as follows:

§ 57.06. Electronic records retention. 1. The state archives shall develop and implement a protocol for the preservation of electronic records of the state in accordance with the provisions of this article. Such protocol shall include:

(a) a process by which senders and recipients of electronic mail can categorize such mail into records that will be retained, and those that will be subject to procedures for regular disposition of such records in the ordinary course of business;

(b) the delineation of such other standards or procedures which will assist in the identification and preservation of electronic records;

(c) the identification of software and other technological aids that would facilitate records preservation and review, and which may be purchased within available resources; and

1 (d) a schedule for records retention for specific types of records and
2 identification of historically important records developed in concert
3 with the agencies providing the electronic records.

4 2. Nothing in this section shall bar an employee of the state archives
5 from maintaining a record slated for destruction under the retention
6 schedule, or from providing such record to an agency, if such record is 7 relevant to an ongoing matter, and such disclosure would not violate any 8 privilege or confidentiality interest.

9 § 7. Section 5 of the executive law is REPEALED.

10 § 8. Subdivision 3 of section 713 of the executive law, as amended by 11 section 16 of part B of chapter 56 of the laws of 2010, is amended to 12 read as follows:

13 3. Any reports prepared pursuant to this article shall not be subject 14 to disclosure pursuant to [~~section eighty-eight~~] article six of the 15 public officers law.

16 § 9. The legislative law is amended by adding a new section 33-a to 17 read as follows:

18 § 33-a. Disclosure. All members, officers and employees of the senate 19 and the assembly shall be subject to the provisions of article six of 20 the public officers law.

21 § 10. Section 70-0113 of the environmental conservation law is
22 REPEALED.

23 § 11. This act shall take effect on the one hundred twentieth day
24 after it shall have become a law.
