AN ACT to amend the tax law, in relation to providing a tax credit for qualified caregiving expenses; and to provide for the repeal of such provisions upon the expiration thereof

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 606 of the tax law is amended by adding a new subsection (ooo) to read as follows:

(ooo) Caregiving tax credit. (1) For taxable years beginning on or after January first, two thousand twenty-four, a qualified caregiver shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article for a portion of the total purchase price paid for a qualified caregiving expense by such a qualified caregiver for performing caregiving duties provided to a qualified family member that resided within this state.

(2) For purposes of this section (A) "qualified caregiving expense" means payments made by the qualified caregiver for goods and services which are provided to or for the benefit of the qualifying family member or to assist the qualified caregiver in caring for the qualifying family member. Such expenses include, but are not limited to, home health agency services, adult day care, companionship services, personal care attendant services, homemaker services, respite care, health care equipment, assistive devices and supplies, home modification, transportation, legal or financial services, and assistive technology.

(B) "qualified family member" means an individual who is: (i) at least eighteen years of age during a taxable year; (ii) a resident of New York state; (iii) requires assistance with at least one activity of daily living (ADL), as certified by a licensed health care practitioner; and

1 (iv) is an individual who qualifies as a dependent, spouse, domestic 2 partner as defined by section four of the workers' compensation law,
3 sibling, partner, parent or other relation by blood or marriage, includ-
4 ing an in-law, grandparent, grandchild, step-parent, aunt, uncle, niece,
5 or nephew of the qualified caregiver.

6 (C) "qualified caregiver" means an individual who is a New York state
7 resident taxpayer for the taxable year. In the case of a joint return, 8 the term includes the individual and the individual's spouse. The quali-
9 fied caregiver claiming the credit must have a federal adjusted gross 10 income of seventy-five thousand dollars or less for an individual and 11 one hundred fifty thousand dollars or less for a couple, and incur
12 uncompensated expenses directly related to the care of a qualified fami-
13 ly member. In addition, qualified caregivers must provide care to one or 14 more eligible qualified family members during the taxable year, and be 15 eligible to receive a credit against the family caregiver's state tax 16 liability for the taxable year.

17 (3) The credit established pursuant to this subsection shall be 18 allowed for the taxable year in which the qualified caregiver incurred
19 the qualified caregiving expense. The credit established under this 20 subsection shall not exceed fifty percent of the total amount expended, 21 and shall not exceed three thousand five hundred dollars.

22 (4) If the allowable amount of the credit exceeds the taxes otherwise 23 due under this article for the taxable year, the unused amount of the 24 credit is waived, and may not be refunded, carried forward or otherwise 25 used to offset taxes.

26 (5) Eligible qualified caregivers shall apply for the credit through 27 the department. The commissioner, in consultation with the commissioner 28 of the department of health and the director of the office for the 29 aging, shall issue a certification for an approved application to the 30 taxpayer that states the amount of the credit allocated to the taxpayer 31 and the allocation year.

32 (6) The aggregate amount of tax credits allowed pursuant to the 33 authority of this subsection shall be thirty-five million dollars each 34 year during the period two thousand twenty-four through two thousand 35 twenty-six. Such aggregate amount of credits shall be allocated by the 36 department on a first come first serve basis in order of priority based 37 upon the date of filing an application for allocation of credit with the 38 department. Once the credits allocated exceed the limit established in 39 this subsection, the commissioner shall cease to allocate and certify 40 tax credits to taxpayers.

41 (7) The commissioner may require a qualified taxpayer to furnish the 42 following information in support of his or her claim for credit under 43 this subsection: household adjusted gross income, the name of the eligi-
44 ble family member and his or her identifying information including 45 social security numbers, and all other information which may be required 46 by the commissioner to determine the credit.

47 (8) The commissioner, after consulting with the commissioner of the 48 department of health and the director of the office for the aging, shall 49 by October thirty-first, two thousand twenty-three promulgate regu-
50 lations necessary and appropriate to carry out the purposes of this 51 subsection. Notwithstanding any other provisions to the contrary in the 52 state administrative procedure act, such rules and regulations may be 53 adopted on an emergency basis if necessary to meet such October thirty-54 first, two thousand twenty-three deadline.

55 (9) The department shall submit to the governor, the temporary presi-56 dent of the senate, and the speaker of the assembly an annual report by

February first of each year evaluating the effectiveness of the caregiving tax credit provided by this subsection. Such report shall be based on data available from the application filed with the department for any caregiving credits. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the information contained in the report shall be public information. The report shall include recommendations for changes in the calculation or administration of the credit proposed by the department, in consultation with the department of health and the office for the aging, that are deemed useful and appropriate.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to taxable years commencing on and after January 1, 2024; provided that the provisions of this act shall expire and be deemed repealed on December 31, 2026.
