§ 37. Audit and recovery of medical assistance payments to providers. Any audit or review of any provider contracts, cost reports, claims, bills, or medical assistance payments by the inspector, anyone designated by the inspector to conduct such audit or review, shall comply with the following standards:

1. Any reviews or audits of provider contracts, cost reports, claims, bills or medical assistance payments shall apply the applicable standard. Prior to commencing an audit or review, the inspector shall provide to the provider access to any applicable standards. For the purpose of this subdivision, an applicable standard shall not be deemed in effect if federal governmental approval was pending or denied at the time the provider engaged in the regulated conduct or provision of services.

2. The inspector shall publish the most current version of protocols applicable to and governing any audit or review of a provider or provider contracts, cost reports, claims, bills or medical assistance payments on the office of the Medicaid inspector general website in advance of commencing such audit or review, which protocols shall include any and all applicable standards.

3. In determining the amount of an overpayment a provider must repay following an audit or review, consistent with subdivision six of section thirty-two of this title, the inspector must consider the following factors:

(a) Whether the findings suggest a sustained or high level of payment error;

(b) Whether the nature of the error is a clerical or minor error or omission;

(c) Impacts to the provider's financial solvency; and

(d) The potential for the repayment, if ordered, to negatively impact access to services.

4. Any sampling and extrapolation methodologies utilized by the inspector shall be consistent with accepted standards of sound auditing practice and statistical analysis.

5. If the inspector determines that the basis of an overpayment is a clerical or minor error or omission, and if the inspector further determines such clerical or minor error or omission are isolated occurrences, limited to three or less, then the inspector shall not apply extrapolation in those cases and recoupment will be limited to each such affected audited claim.

6. The draft audit report given to the provider shall include the inspector's findings and a detailed written explanation of the extrapolation method if used, including the size of the sample, the sampling methodology, the defined universe of claims, the specific claims included in the sample, the results of the sample, the assumptions made about the accuracy and reliability of the sample and the level of confidence in the sample results, and the steps undertaken to calculate the alleged overpayment and any applicable offset based on the sample results.

7. The inspector shall consider any supporting documentation that the provider submits prior to the issuance of the final audit report that the provider thinks is relevant to the audit, including, but not limited to attestations addressing missing documentation and/or signatures. The inspector shall use the totality of the record to determine if the documentation or signature requirement, as outlined in statute or regulation, is met, and/or consider submitted attestations to resolve the issue. If the inspector rejects such supporting documentation, an explanation for such rejection shall be provided in writing.

8. The inspector's final audit report or final notice of agency action shall include a specific explanation of the inspector's consideration of the factors described in paragraphs (a) through (d) of subdivision three of this section.

9. The inspector shall not foreclose or prohibit the provider from settling through repayment at the lower confidence limit plus applicable interest, even if the provider requests a hearing, up until the hearing determination is issued.

10. Neither recoupment by the inspector nor repayment by the provider of overpayments shall commence earlier than sixty days from the issuance date of the final audit report or, if the provider requests a hearing, then sixty days from the issuance date of the hearing determination.

11. Nothing in this section shall prevent the inspector from complying with Medicaid audit requirements established by federal law, rules and regulations, or binding federal agency guidance and directives.

§ 3. The opening paragraph of subdivision 1 of section 35 of the public health law, as added by chapter 442 of the laws of 2006, is amended to read as follows:
