AN ACT to amend the penal law, in relation to expenses borne by counties outside of the city of New York for the issuance and maintenance of record books utilized by authorized gunsmiths in the sale and disposition of firearms in the state

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Legislative findings and declaration. As part of New York's 2 firearms licensing law, section 400.00 of the penal law requires
3 gunsmiths and licensed firearms dealers to maintain a record of all 4 transactions involving firearms. These requirements are contained in 5 subdivision 12 of section 400.00 of the penal law. In order to buy a 6 firearm the purchaser must produce a license authorizing possession of 7 the weapon or show authorization to carry the weapon by virtue of their 8 peace officer or police officer status. Within ten days of sale, section 9 400.00 of the penal law requires the seller to send a "transaction 10 report" to the Division of State Police. An original of the report is 11 retained in a record book to be kept on premises while the statute is 12 silent as to who is responsible for distributing the record books to the 13 firearms dealers, subdivision 13 of section 400.00 of the penal law has 14 been interpreted since 1987 as requiring County governments outside of 15 the City of New York, and the City of New York within the City, as 16 financially responsible for the expenses related to and the management 17 of the issuance of, the record books referenced in subdivision 12 of 18 section 400.00 of the penal law. Since the emergence of on-line retail 19 sales of firearms, the demand for, and cost of, firearms record books
20 has grown as an unfunded mandate on counties related solely to an activ-
21 ity associated with the State Police of New York. As such, this amend-22 ment seeks to modify the law to require the expense associated with
