3 (g) (1) Notwithstanding subsection (c) of this section, an insurer
4 licensed to write accident and health insurance in this state or a 5 corporation organized pursuant to article forty-three of this chapter or 6 a health maintenance organization certified pursuant to article forty-7 four of the public health law may offer an incentive or reward program
8 to support wellness, primary and preventative care, population health, 9 care coordination, case management, disease management, mental health
10 and substance use disorder treatment initiatives, evidenced-based treat-
11 ment, or quality and cost containment initiatives. With the exception 12 of incentives or rewards related to wellness programs governed by 13 section three thousand two hundred thirty-nine of this chapter, the 14 total value of such incentives may not exceed an aggregate average value
15 to the insured of six hundred dollars per year.

16 (2) Wellness programs offered pursuant to section three thousand two 17 hundred thirty-nine of this chapter and incentive or reward programs 18 offered pursuant to this subsection may (i) target populations deter-
19 mined based on age, sex, or health status; (ii) be offered for a limited 20 period or duration that does not align with the policy or contract term 21 and may include a sweepstakes, raffle or contest; and (iii) offer 22 rewards or incentives that do not involve a tangible benefit to be 23 available to all enrollees or a direct benefit to the enrollee.

24 (h)(1) This subsection shall apply only with respect to a group acci-
25 dent and health insurance policy issued by an insurer licensed to write 26 accident and health insurance in this state or a group contract issued 27 by a corporation organized pursuant to article forty-three of this chap-28 ter, excluding community-rated policies or contracts subject to the 29 requirements of section three thousand two hundred thirty-one or four 30 thousand three hundred seventeen of this chapter.

31 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (c) of this section, no insurer
32 licensed to write accident and health insurance in this state or a
33 corporation organized pursuant to article forty-three of this chapter, 34 or officer, agent, solicitor or representative thereof shall be consid-
35 ered to be offering an impermissible inducement or rebate if it adjusts 36 its premiums to reflect payment of a commission within a range of 37 commission options filed with the superintendent in its premium rate or 38 rate manual. Nor shall a producer or any other person be considered to 39 be in violation of this section for accepting or paying a premium rate 40 that reflects a commission within a permissible range set forth in the 41 premium rate or rate manual filed with the superintendent.

42 (3) An insurer or corporation may include a range of commission
43 options in the premium rate or rate manual filed with the superintendent

45 within the filed ranges. Within the filed range, the applicable commis-46 sion may reflect an amount agreed upon by and between a policy holder or 47 contract holder and the insurer or corporation or producer engaged in 48 the sale. The applicable commission may vary by group and a single-case 49 filing may be submitted to the superintendent if needed to obtain 50 approval of a distinct commission arrangement. The requirements set 51 forth in section two thousand one hundred nineteen of this chapter shall 52 not apply where the premium and commission is collected by the insurer
53 or corporation and consistent with amounts set forth in the premium rate 54 or rate manual approved by the superintendent.

55 (4) If a range of commission options is included in the premium rate
56 or rate manual filed with the superintendent for a policy or contract

1 that is subject to guaranteed issuance requirements set forth in 2 subsection (t) of section three thousand two hundred twenty-one and 3 subsection (n) of section four thousand three hundred five of this chap-
4 ter, then the full range of commission options included in the premium
5 rate or rate manual filed with the superintendent must be made available 6 to all similarly situated groups seeking to purchase the coverage.

7 § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
