2025-2026 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

February 14, 2025

Introduced by M. of A. SOLAGES -- read once and referred to the Committee on Education

AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to requirements for library material in public school libraries and public libraries; and to amend the executive law, in relation to prohibiting discrimination against librarians for certain acts

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "freedom to 2 read act".

3 § 2. Legislative intent. The legislature finds and declares that:

4 (a) The freedom to read is a human right, constitutionally protected
5 by the First Amendment of the United States Constitution, and individ-
6 uals have the right to free inquiry and the right to form their own 7 opinions.

8 (b) The freedom to read does not require a person to agree with topics 9 or themes within a material, but instead allows a reader to explore and 10 engage with differing perspectives to form and inform their own views.

11 (c) Since Tinker v. Des Moines Indep. Cmty. Sch. Dist., 393 U.S. 503 12 (1969), it has been well established that students do not "shed their 13 constitutional rights to freedom of speech or expression at the school-14 house gate" and, as such, students have a right to access a diverse 15 range of age-relevant information, stories, perspectives, and ideas.

16 (d) In Board of Education v. Pico, 457 U.S. 853 (1982), the United 17 States Supreme Court recognized that school libraries are "completely 18 voluntary on the part of students" a student's selection of books from a 19 school library "is entirely a matter of free choice" and the school
20 library affords a student "an opportunity at self-education and individ-21 ual enrichment that is wholly optional."

22 (e) School libraries and public libraries, as centers for voluntary 23 inquiry, play a unique role in promoting intellectual freedom, providing

1 equitable access to learning resources, and promoting democracy by 2 providing service to all regardless of race, ethnicity, creed, age,
3 ability, gender, or socio-economic status.

4 (f) School library media specialists and librarians are essential
5 members of the community; as trained professionals, they help young 6 people of all backgrounds find and interpret the information they need 7 to succeed in school and prepare for college, careers, and life.

8 (g) School library media specialists and librarians receive extensive 9 professional training that prepares them to develop and curate
10 collections designed to meet the broad and varied interests and needs of 11 their communities and students, which is based on a variety of factors, 12 including pedagogical value, student interest, and the age-appropriate-13 ness of the material.

14 (h) Despite this, school library media specialists and librarians have 15 been targeted, harassed, and defamed for providing young people access 16 to library material.

17 (i) Therefore, it is necessary and proper for the legislature to 18 protect the freedom of New York's residents to read, for school 19 libraries and public libraries to acquire and maintain materials without 20 external limitations, to recognize that school library media specialists 21 and librarians are trained to curate and develop collections, and to 22 protect school library media specialists and librarians from unnecessary 23 and unwarranted harassment and defamation for performance of their 24 duties.

25 § 3. The education law is amended by adding two new sections 249-b and 26 249-c to read as follows:
