WHEREAS, Apraxia Awareness Month provides an opportunity to honor the children who live with Childhood Apraxia of Speech, their families, and the professionals who support them, recognizing their strength, determination, and resilience in overcoming challenges; and

WHEREAS, Increasing public awareness about Childhood Apraxia of Speech is essential to ensuring that families, educators, healthcare providers, policymakers, and all community members work together to advocate for services, research, and resources that empower children with CAS to find their voices; and

WHEREAS, During the month of May, workplaces, schools, and communities across New York State are encouraged to wear blue and organize events to promote understanding, foster inclusion, and celebrate the achievements of children with CAS; and
