1 § 2. The retirement and social security law is amended by adding a new
2 section 605-h to read as follows:

4 any provision of this chapter or of any general, special or local law to 5 the contrary, any member who is a correction officer, correction super-

8 and contracts any condition of impairment of health caused by diseases

20 § 3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, none
21 of the provisions of this act shall be subject to section 25 of the 22 retirement and social security law.

23 § 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

This proposal would amend the retirement and social security law (RSSL) to allow members of the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System (NYSLERS), currently employed as correction officers or deputy sheriff patrol officers, to receive an accidental disability benefit if the member is impaired due to heart disease.

The provisions of section 25 of the RSSL shall not apply.

This proposal would likely lead to an increased number of accidental disabilities and deaths for future retirees.

We estimate that the annual contributions of the counties employing affected members will not materially increase because of this proposal.

There will be an immediate past service cost of $12.6 million which will be shared by all participating employers in NYSLERS.

Further, we anticipate some administrative costs to implement the provisions of this legislation.

These estimated costs are based on 8,162 affected members employed by a county, with annual salary of approximately $840 million as of March 31, 2025. Correction officers and deputy sheriffs covered under the RSSL section 89-series (25-year plans) were included. However, only deputy sheriffs with the patrol title, who cannot be readily identified, will be affected.
