1 (c) "Special findings" means findings necessary for a child to peti-
2 tion for classification as a special immigration juvenile including a 3 finding that reunification with one or both parents is not viable due to 4 abuse, neglect, abandonment, or a similar basis under state law, and a 5 finding that it is not in the child's best interest to be returned to 6 such child's or such child's parent's country of nationality or last 7 habitual residence.

8 § 1101. Jurisdiction. (a) The family court shall have exclusive juris-9 isdiction over all petitions and motions filed pursuant to this article.

10 (b) In determining the jurisdiction of the family court under this 11 article, the age of the child at the time the proceedings are initiated 12 is controlling.

13 § 1102. Venue. Proceedings commenced under this article may originate 14 in the county of the child's federal placement or where the child is 15 domiciled at the time of the filing.

16 § 1103. Petitions. (a) At any time, a child in a federal placement or 17 any adult acting on the child's behalf may commence a proceeding to seek 18 a determination of dependency under this article by filing a petition 19 with the family court alleging that the child is a dependent child.

20 (b) Statements in the petition may be made upon information and 21 belief, and may concern acts, omissions, and events that occurred
22 outside of the state of New York or outside of the United States.

23 (c) Facts alleged in a petition under this article relating to past 24 acts, omissions or events outside the United States shall not without 25 more information require referral to the office of children and family
26 services or result in the placement of any individual on the state
27 central register of child abuse and maltreatment.

28 § 1104. Service of process. Service of a summons and petition under 29 this article shall be made to any persons named in the petition as known 30 parents or legal guardians pursuant to subdivision (d) of section one 31 thousand ninety-three of this act.

32 § 1105. Hearings and orders. (a) Except for good cause shown, the 33 hearing shall be held as soon as practicable and shall not be adjourned.

34 (b) The court shall make a finding of dependency if, based upon the 35 evidence presented, the court finds that the child qualifies as a
36 dependent child. If the proof does not conform to the specific allega-37 tions of the petition, the court may amend the allegations to conform to 38 the proof if no party objects to such conformation.

39 (c) The court shall consider all material and relevant evidence 40 including but not limited to sworn statements, and birth and death
41 certificates.

42 (d) Upon determining that a child is a dependent child, the court may 43 issue orders as may be necessary to ensure the child's safety and 44 wellbeing, consistent with its authority under section two hundred 45 fifty-five of this act.

46 (e) The court order of dependency may recognize the child's placement 47 in federal custody. The court shall not alter the child's custody with-48 out the consent of the United States Department of Health and Human 49 Services.

50 § 1106. Continuing court jurisdiction. (a) The court shall maintain 51 jurisdiction over a case for purposes of hearing a motion for special 52 findings. The court shall issue an order responding to any motion for 53 special findings filed after initiation of a proceeding under this arti-
54 cle and shall address each of the requested special findings.

55 (b) Following adjudication on the merits and disposition of any pend-56 ing motions, the court may terminate proceedings if it determines that

1 continued jurisdiction over the subject child would no longer serve the 2 child's best interests. In any instance where a child or their counsel 3 informs the court that an application for special immigrant juvenile 4 status is pending or has not yet been granted, it shall be presumed that 5 continued jurisdiction is in the child's best interests.

6 (c) In the event that further judicial action is needed as provided 7 for in this article, the proceeding may be restored to the calendar by 8 motion or order to show cause on notice to all parties.

9 (d) Upon reaching their eighteenth birthday, the child may consent to 10 the court's retention of exclusive jurisdiction over the proceeding
11 until the child reaches the age of twenty-one.

18 federal placement and having no parent or legal guardian in the United 19 States able to provide for the child's essential needs;

20 § 3. Subdivision (a) of section 249 of the family court act, as

45 under article ten-B of this act, the family court shall appoint an

49 jurisdiction, the court may appoint an attorney to represent the child, 50 when, in the opinion of the family court judge, such representation will 51 serve the purposes of this act, if independent legal counsel is not 52 available to the child. The family court on its own motion may make such 53 appointment.
