9. The comptroller may enter into such contracts as it deems necessary and proper for the implementation of the program.

§ 13-106. Program requirements; energy savings account. 1. Energy savings accounts established pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be governed by the provisions of this section.

2. An energy savings account may be opened by any person who desires to save money for the payment of the qualified energy expenses of the account owner or designated beneficiary. An account owner may designate another person as successor owner of the account in the event of the death of the original account owner. Such person who opens an account or any successor owner shall be considered the account owner.

(a) An application for such account shall be in the form prescribed by the program and contain the following:

(i) the name, address and social security number or employer identification number of the account owner;

(ii) the designation of a designated beneficiary;

(iii) the name, address, and social security number of the designated beneficiary; and

(iv) such other information as the program may require.

(b) The comptroller and the corporation may establish a nominal fee for such application.

3. Any person, including the account owner, may make contributions to the account after the account is opened.

4. Contributions to accounts may be made only in cash.

5. An account owner may withdraw all or part of the balance from an account as authorized under rules governing the program. Such rules shall include provisions that will generally enable the determination as to whether a withdrawal is a nonqualified withdrawal or a qualified withdrawal.

6. (a) An account owner may change the designated beneficiary of an account in accordance with procedures established by the memorandum of understating pursuant to the provisions of section 13-104 of this article.

(b) An account owner may transfer all or a portion of an account to another energy savings account.

(c) Changes in designated beneficiaries and transfers under this subdivision shall not be permitted to the extent that they would cause all accounts for the same beneficiary to exceed the permitted aggregate maximum account balance.

7. The program shall provide separate accounting for each designated beneficiary.

8. No account owner or designated beneficiary of any account shall be permitted to direct the investment of any contributions to an account or the earnings thereon more than two times in any calendar year.

1 9. Neither an account owner nor a designated beneficiary may use an
2 interest in an account as security for a loan. Any pledge of an interest
3 in an account shall be of no force and effect.

4 10. The comptroller shall promulgate rules or regulations to prevent 5 contributions on behalf of a designated beneficiary in excess of an
6 amount that would cause the aggregate account balance for all accounts
7 for a designated beneficiary to exceed a maximum account balance, as 8 established from time to time by the comptroller.

9 11. Contributions to an energy savings account shall be limited to one
10 hundred thousand dollars per account. This amount shall not take into 11 consideration any gain or loss to the principal investment into the 12 account.

13 12. In the event that an individual makes a nonqualified withdrawal of 14 monies from the energy savings account such individual shall have the 15 entire account taxed, including any interest, as though it was income at 16 the account owner's federal tax rate in the tax years the monies were 17 withdrawn, and incur an additional ten percent state penalty on the 18 amount of earnings. In the event account owners or designated benefi-
19 cary does not use the qualified energy expenditures the account owner
20 shall have the entire account taxed, including any interest, as though 21 it was ordinary income at the account owner's federal tax rate in the 22 tax years the monies were withdrawn and incur an additional ten percent
23 state penalty on the amount of earnings. The penalty shall be in addi-
24 tion to any taxes due pursuant to a non-qualified withdrawal from an 25 energy savings account.

26 13. Withdrawals from the account during a period of less than twelve
27 months from the date such account was created shall be considered a
28 nonqualified withdrawal.

29 14. Penalties may be waived by the commissioner if the individual can 30 show proof that the reason the individual did not use the qualified
31 energy expenditures was due to either:

32 (a) an employment relocation outside the state and such relocation
33 required the individual to become a resident of another state;

34 (b) an unforeseeable emergency;

35 (c) an absence due to qualifying military service; or

36 (d) death.

37 For purposes of this subdivision, an "unforeseeable emergency" shall 38 mean a severe financial hardship resulting from illness, accident or 39 property loss to the account owner, or such account owner's dependents
40 resulting in circumstances beyond their control. The circumstances that 41 constitute an unforeseeable financial emergency will depend on the facts
42 of each case, however, withdrawal of account funds may not be made,
43 without penalty, to the extent that such hardship is or may be relieved
44 by either:

45 (i) reimbursement or compensation by insurance or otherwise; or

46 (ii) liquidation of the individual's assets to the extent the liqui-
47 dation of such assets would not itself cause severe financial hardship.

48 15. The commissioner and the comptroller are directed to promulgate
49 all rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of this
50 subdivision and are hereby directed to establish, supervise and regulate 51 energy savings accounts authorized to be created by this section.

52 16. (a) If there is any distribution from an energy savings account to
53 any individual or for the benefit of any individual during a calendar
54 year, such distribution shall be reported to the Internal Revenue
55 Service and the account owner, the designated beneficiary, or the 56 distributee to the extent required by federal law or regulation.

(b) Statements shall be provided to each account owner at least once each year within sixty days after the end of the twelve-month period to which they relate. The statement shall identify the contributions made during a preceding twelve-month period, the total contributions made to the account through the end of the period, the value of the account at the end of such period, distributions made during such period and any other information that the comptroller shall require to be reported to the account owner.

(c) Statements and information relating to accounts shall be prepared and filed to the extent required by federal and state tax laws.

17. An annual fee may be imposed upon the account owner for the maintenance of the account.

18. The program shall disclose the following information in writing to each account owner of an energy savings account:

(a) the terms and conditions for establishing an energy savings account;

(b) any restrictions on the substitution of beneficiaries;

(c) the person or entity entitled to terminate the energy savings agreement;

(d) the period of time during which a beneficiary may receive benefits under the energy savings agreement;

(e) the terms and conditions under which money may be wholly or partially withdrawn from the program, including, but not limited to, any reasonable charges and fees that may be imposed for withdrawal;

(f) the probable tax consequences associated with contributions to and distributions from accounts; and

(g) all other rights and obligations pursuant to energy savings agreements, and any other terms, conditions, and provisions deemed necessary and appropriate by the terms of the memorandum of understanding entered into pursuant to section 13-104 of this article.

19. Energy savings agreements shall be subject to section fourteen-c of the banking law and the "truth-in-savings" regulations promulgated thereunder.

20. Nothing in this article or in any energy savings agreement entered into pursuant to this article shall be construed as a guarantee by the state that the account owner or designated beneficiary will qualify for the purchase of a qualified energy expense.

21. Monies withdrawn from energy savings accounts and any interest which has accrued shall not be considered as taxable income to the account owner for state personal income taxation purposes, so long as the monies are applied for the purchase of a qualified energy expense by the account owner or designated beneficiary of the account.

§ 13-107. Program limitations; energy savings account. 1. Nothing in this article shall be construed to:

(a) give any designated beneficiary any rights or legal interest with respect to an account unless the designated beneficiary is the account owner;

(b) guarantee that the account owner or designated beneficiary will be financially qualified for purchase of a qualified energy expense; or

(c) create state residency for an individual merely because the individual is a designated beneficiary.

2. (a) Nothing in this article shall create or be construed to create any obligation of the comptroller, the state, or any agency or instrumentality of the state to guarantee for the benefit of the account owner or designated beneficiary with respect to:

(i) the rate of interest or other return on any account; and

1 (ii) the payment of interest or other return on any account.

2 (b) The comptroller by rule or regulation shall provide that every
3 contract, application, deposit slip or other similar document that may
4 be used in connection with a contribution to an account clearly indicate
5 that the account is not insured by the state and neither the principal
6 deposited nor the investment return is guaranteed by the state.

7 § 2. Subsection (c) of section 612 of the tax law is amended by adding
8 two new paragraphs 48 and 49 to read as follows:

9 (48) Contributions made during the taxable year by an account owner to 10 an energy savings account established under the New York state energy
11 savings program to the extent not deductible or eligible for credit for 12 federal income tax purposes, provided, however, the exclusion provided 13 for in this paragraph shall not exceed five thousand dollars for an 14 individual or head of household, and for married couples who file joint 15 tax returns, shall not exceed ten thousand dollars; provided, further
16 that such exclusion shall be available only to the account owner and not
17 to any other person. A taxpayer with an adjusted gross income in excess 18 of two hundred fifty percent of the area median income as defined by the 19 U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development shall not be eligible
20 for the tax deduction pursuant to this section.

21 (49) Distributions from an energy savings account established under
22 the New York state energy savings program provided for under article 23 thirteen of the energy law, to the extent includible in gross income for 24 federal income tax purposes.

25 § 3. This act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day after 26 it shall have become a law, and shall apply to taxable years commencing
27 on or after the first of January next succeeding the date on which it
28 shall have become a law; provided, however, that effective immediately,
29 the commissioner of taxation and finance and the state comptroller are 30 authorized to promulgate any rules or regulations necessary to implement
31 the provisions of this act on its effective date on or before such date.
