

STATE OF NEW YORK

1361

2025-2026 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

January 9, 2025

Introduced by M. of A. DINOWITZ -- read once and referred to the Committee on Labor

AN ACT to amend the labor law, in relation to allowing employers and employees to enter into restrictive covenants in certain circumstances

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. The labor law is amended by adding a new section 191-d to 2 read as follows:

3 § 191-d. Restrictive covenants. 1. For the purposes of this section, 4 the following terms shall have the following meanings:

5 a. "Employee" means an employee as defined in subdivision two of 6 section one hundred ninety of this article, including an individual 7 employed in a supervisory, managerial, or confidential position.

8 b. "Employer" includes any person, corporation, limited liability
9 company, or association employing any individual in any occupation, 10 industry, trade, business or service, and shall include the state and 11 its instrumentalities and political subdivisions, governmental agencies, 12 public corporations, and charitable organizations.

13 c. "Fringe benefit" means any vacation leave, sick leave, medical 14 insurance plan, disability insurance plan, life insurance plan, pension 15 benefit plan, or any other benefit of economic value, to the extent that 16 the leave, plan, or benefit is paid for in whole or in part by the 17 employer.

18 d. "Good cause" means a reasonable basis related to an individual
19 employee for termination of the employee's employment in view of rele-20 vant factors and circumstances, which may include but is not limited to:

21 (i) the employee engaging in a pattern of improper or disorderly
22 conduct;

23 (ii) not working in an efficient manner, or working belatedly and 24 negligently, or in violation of the standards of quality of the estab-
25 lishment;

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD03248-01-5

1 (iii) repeated violation of reasonable rules or policies established
2 for the operation of the establishment, provided a written copy of the 3 rules or policies has been provided to the employee, provided that any 4 standards, rules or policies are consistently enforced and not applied 5 to a particular employee in a disparate manner without justification; or

6 (iv) for serious misconduct which is directly related to the employ-
7 ment relationship and has a detrimental effect on the employer's busi-
8 ness, and in which situation the employer cannot reasonably be expected 9 to take any course other than to terminate the employment of the employ-10 ee.

11 e. "Restrictive covenant" means an agreement between an employer and 12 an employee arising out of an existing or prospective employment 13 relationship, or an agreement between an employer and an employee with 14 respect to severance pay, under which the employee or prospective
15 employee agrees not to engage in certain specified activities in compe-
16 tition with the employee's employer after the employment relationship 17 has terminated.

18 2. An employer may require or request that an employee enter into a 19 restrictive covenant as a condition of employment or with respect to 20 severance pay as provided in this section. A restrictive covenant shall 21 be enforceable to the extent that it meets the following requirements:

22 a. (i) where the restrictive covenant is a condition to commencement 23 of employment, the employer shall disclose the terms and conditions of 24 such covenant in writing to the prospective employee either at the time 25 a formal offer of employment is tendered or thirty business days prior 26 to the commencement of such employment, whichever occurs earlier; or

27 (ii) where a restrictive covenant is a condition to continue existing 28 employment, or as a condition for an employee to receive severance pay 29 following termination, the employer shall provide the terms and condi-
30 tions of such covenant in writing to the employee at least thirty busi-31 ness days before any such covenant is to take effect; and

32 (iii) the agreement shall be signed by both parties and shall express-33 ly state that the employee has the right to consult with counsel prior 34 to signing.

35 b. The agreement shall be no more restrictive than necessary to 36 protect the legitimate business interests of the employer, and shall be 37 limited to protecting the employer's trade secrets.

38 c. The agreement shall be reasonable in the scope of proscribed activ-39 ities in relation to the interests protected and limited to only the 40 specific types of services provided by the employee at any time during 41 the last two years of employment.

42 d. The agreement shall not penalize an employee for defending against 43 or challenging the validity or enforceability of the covenant.

44 e. The agreement shall not contain a choice of law provision that 45 would have the effect of avoiding the requirements of this section, if 46 the employee is a resident of or employed in the state at the time of 47 termination of employment and has been for at least thirty days imme-
48 diately preceding the termination of such employment.

49 f. The agreement shall not waive an employee's substantive, procedural 50 and remedial rights provided under this chapter, under any other law, 51 rule or regulation, or under the common law.

52 g. The agreement shall not restrict an employee from providing a 53 service to a customer or client of the employer, if the employee does 54 not initiate or solicit the customer or client.

1 h. The agreement shall not restrict an employee from working with one 2 or more other employees who may also have worked for or with the employ-3 er in any capacity.

4 i. The agreement shall not be unduly burdensome on the employee, inju-
5 rious to the public, or inconsistent with public policy.

6 j. The employee is terminated for good cause or the employee resigns
7 from the employer on their own accord. A restrictive covenant shall not 8 be enforceable if an employer terminates an employee without good cause.

9 3. Every employer shall provide its employees with a written document
10 regarding such employer's policy on good cause with respect to termi-11 nation.

12 4. The commissioner shall have the power to receive, investigate, 13 attempt to resolve, and enforce a complaint of a violation of this 14 section and shall impose a civil fine in an amount not to exceed five 15 thousand dollars for each employee who was the subject of such 16 violation.

17 5. The provisions of this section shall not apply to employees covered 18 under section two hundred two-k of this chapter.

19 § 2. Severability clause. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivi-20 sion, section or part of this act shall be adjudged by any court of 21 competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, 22 impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in 23 its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section 24 or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judg-25 ment shall have been rendered. It is hereby declared to be the intent of 26 the legislature that this act would have been enacted even if such 27 invalid provisions had not been included herein.

28 § 3. This act shall take effect on the sixtieth day after it shall 29 have become a law and shall apply to agreements entered into on or 30 before such date.