AN ACT to amend the mental hygiene law, in relation to establishing the "recovery ready workplace act"

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as 2 the "recovery ready workplace act".

3 § 2. The mental hygiene law is amended by adding a new section 32.40
4 to read as follows:

5 § 32.40 Recovery-ready workplace program.

6 (a) Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following terms 7 shall have the following meanings:

8 1. "Employer" shall include any person, entity, corporation, limited 9 liability company, or association employing any individual in any occu-10 pation, industry, trade, business or service.

11 2. "Employee" means any person employed for hire by an employer in any 12 employment.

13 3. "Lived experience" means having first-hand experience living with 14 mental health and/or substance use disorder and the associated chal-15 lenges.

16 4. "Opioid use disorder" or "OUD" means a problematic pattern of 17 opioid use leading to clinically significant impairment or distress and 18 is a subset of SUD.

19 5. "Member assistance program" means a labor union administered educa-20 tion and assistance program that provides support to members struggling 21 with mental health or substance use problems.

22 6. "Prevention" means a way of preventing substance misuse through 23 strategies to reduce the risk of injury and stress in the workplace and

1 address other factors that may increase the risk of substance misuse and 2 through training and education to build a substance use disorder and 3 recovery literacy.

4 7. "Recovery" means a process of change through which individuals 5 improve their health and wellness, live a self-directed life, and strive 6 to reach their full potential.

7 8. "Recovery ready workplace advisor" means a person who is an employ-8 ee of or contractor for a recovery ready workplace program and whose 9 duties include, but are not limited to, assisting employers through the 10 process of becoming a certified recovery ready workplace.

11 9. "Certified peer support advocate" means a person with the lived 12 experience of recovery from a substance use disorder or co-occurring 13 disorder and who is certified to provide non-clinical, strengths-based 14 support to others experiencing similar challenges. "Certified peer 15 support advocates" shall also be known as "peer specialists", "peer 16 recovery coaches", and "peer recovery support specialists".

17 10. "Recovery ready workplace" or "RRW" means an established program 18 to prevent exposure to workplace factors that could cause or perpetuate 19 a SUD while lowering barriers to seeking care, receiving care, and main-20 taining recovery, and to educate its management team and workers on 21 issues surrounding SUDs to reduce the stigma around such challenge.

22 11. "Substance use disorder" or "SUD" means the recurrent use of alco-23 hol and/or drugs that causes clinically significant impairment, includ-
24 ing health problems, disability, and failure to meet major responsibil-25 ities at work, school, or home.

26 12. "Workplace" means any site where an employee performs any work-re-27 lated duty or duties in the scope and course of the employee's employ-28 ment, provided that such locations shall not include an employee's domi-29 cile, permanent or temporary, where an employee performs any 30 work-related duty in the course of their employment.

31 (b) The office, in consultation with the department of labor, shall 32 establish a recovery ready workplace program to be administered and 33 overseen by the office. At a minimum, the program shall:

34 1. Develop a process through which employers may apply to become a 35 recovery ready workplace participant or certified as recovery ready as 36 set forth in this section;

37 2. Develop an orientation process that includes training materials for 38 employers that provides a baseline introduction to substance use disor-39 der, treatment, and recovery, including information on the science of 40 addiction, stigma, substance use in the workforce, prevention measures, 41 available local resources, and the ways in which employers can amend and 42 implement recovery ready policies and practices to help their employees 43 with substance use disorders;

44 3. Provide consultation, guidance, technical assistance, training and 45 education, and other support to employers seeking to become participants 46 or certified recovery ready workplaces, as well as to current program 47 participants and certified recovery ready employers;

48 4. Conduct outreach to stakeholders, including employers that are not 49 engaged in the program, labor unions, and recovery support organiza-50 tions, to provide information regarding the program; and 51 5. Establish a recovery ready workplace program webpage on the 52 office's website that provides information on substance use in the work-53 place to employers, employees, and the general public.

54 (c) The office of addiction services and supports, shall promulgate 55 regulations establishing the criteria by which an employer can obtain

1 certification as a RRW. Such criteria shall include, but not be limited 2 to, the following:

- 3 1. a signed letter of interest from the employer to become a RRW;
 - 4 2. issuance of a written declaration to employees;
 - 5 3. collaboration with employees and, if any, the collective bargaining 6 agent or the bona fide labor organization which has established itself 7 and/or its affiliates as the collective bargaining representative for 8 persons employed by such employer, recovery community organizations, and 9 government officials in establishing a RRW and the development of the 10 proposed recovery ready workplace program in writing;
 - 11 4. proactively identifying and addressing the primary prevention of 12 workplace hazards and sources of stress at work associated with opioid 13 and other substance misuse, including prescription medications and 14 through self-medication;
 - 15 5. establishing availability of naloxone onsite and training personnel 16 on its administration and other first aid measures that reduce the risk 17 of death as a result of an overdose;
 - 18 6. supporting and providing information to injured workers on how to 19 avoid opioid and other substance misuse;
 - 20 7. providing training and orientation to supervisors, management, 21 employees, and union officials;
 - 22 8. providing resources and information to employees;
 - 23 9. connecting with a recovery community organization within six months 24 of certification;
 - 25 10. assessing and addressing workplace culture issues by:
 - 26 (A) encouraging all qualified applicants, including persons in recov-27 ery;
 - 28 (B) having programs and practices that promote and support employee 29 health, wellness, and work-life balance, such as but not limited to 30 member assistance programs; and
 - 31 (C) supporting employees who seek treatment and who require residen-32 tial or outpatient treatment and related disability leave, including 33 planning for return to work;
 - 34 11. offering health benefits that provide comprehensive coverage for 35 SUDs, including medications for OUD and SUD, aftercare, and counseling;
 - 36 12. evaluating and improving, as needed, access to treatment and 37 recovery resources and ensure mental health and substance use benefits 38 are equal to those for physical health as required by paragraph five of 39 subsection one of section three thousand two hundred twenty-one and 40 subsections (g) and (h) of section four thousand three hundred three of 41 the insurance law, and the federal mental health parity addiction equity 42 act;
 - 43 13. providing work accommodations for employees in recovery to attend 44 treatment and recovery services and providing reasonable work accommo-45 dations to support workers in recovery in compliance with federal and 46 state law; and
 - 47 14. ensuring employer RRW policies include confidentiality provisions 48 to maintain confidentiality of employees accessing services.
- 49 (d) 1. An employer shall develop the plan to become certified as a RRW 50 in cooperation with the collective bargaining agent or the bona fide 51 labor organization which has established itself and/or its affiliates as 52 the collective bargaining representative for persons employed by such 53 employer, if any, or with meaningful participation of employees where 54 there is no collective bargaining representative, for all aspects of the 55 plan, and such plan shall be tailored to the specific industry and work 56 place or workplaces of the employer.

1 2. Employers shall be encouraged to establish multi-stakeholder
2 committees, subcommittees, or task forces to help develop RRW programs.
3 Where there is a collective bargaining agent or a bona fide labor organ-4 ization which has established itself and/or its affiliates as the 5 collective bargaining representative for persons employed by such 6 employer, such collective bargaining representative shall select employ-7 ees to be members of such committee.

8 3. To the extent that any individual voluntarily self-discloses lived
9 experience with SUD or recovery, a RRW committee, subcommittee, or task 10 force shall invite representatives with lived experience to participate 11 in the development and the annual review of the RRW plan, while main-12 taining confidentiality.

13 4. The employer shall update its drug and alcohol policies in writing 14 within one year of certification. The employer shall make such policies 15 available to all employees, shall review such policies annually in 16 consultation with the employers' RRW committee, and shall update such 17 policies as necessary, except as described in subdivision (c) of this 18 section.

19 5. Employer policies related to accessing treatment and recovery
20 resources shall be evaluated and improved, as necessary, including a 21 review of mental health and substance use benefits to assess parity to 22 those for physical health in conformance with federal, state, and local 23 laws.

24 (e) The provisions of this section shall not be construed to diminish 25 or alter the rights or benefits of any employee pursuant to any other 26 law, regulation, or collective bargaining agreement.

27 § 3. This act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day after 28 it shall have become a law.
