3 person supplied is unable because of mental or physical problems to 11 § 2. Section 32 of the public service law is amended by adding a new 12 subdivision 3-a to read as follows:

13 3-a. (a) For the purposes of this subdivision, the term "forecast of 14 extreme temperature" shall mean a forecast by the national weather
15 service or such other authoritative source as designated by the commis-16 sion that indicates:

17 (i) the heat index or ambient air temperature will reach eighty-five 18 degrees Fahrenheit or above during any time of day or night; or

19 (ii) lowest forecasted ambient air temperature or wind chill will 20 reach thirty-two degrees Fahrenheit or below during any time of day or 21 night.

22 (b) A utility or municipality supplying residential heat, electricity, 23 or water shall not terminate such service the day preceding, the day of,
24 and the two days following a forecast of extreme temperature. A utility 25 or municipality shall also immediately halt any scheduled termination
26 if, at any point, during that day, the heat index, wind chill, or ambi-
27 ent air temperature reaches or exceeds the threshold set forth in para-
28 graph (a) of this subdivision, regardless of whether the earlier fore-29 cast predicted that threshold would be met.

30 (c) Any provider of submetered residential electric or water service,
31 including any submetering billing company or third-party administrator 32 acting on behalf of a building owner or manager, shall be subject to the 33 same provisions applicable under this subdivision.

34 § 3. Severability clause. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivi-
35 sion or part of this article of the application thereof to any person, 36 firm or corporation, or circumstance shall be adjudged by any court of 37 competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, such judgement 38 shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall 39 be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivi-
40 sion, or part of this act; or in its application to the person, firm, 41 corporation, or circumstance, directly involved in the controversy in 42 which such judgement shall have been rendered.

43 § 4. This act shall take effect immediately.
