

STATE OF NEW YORK

5896

2025-2026 Regular Sessions

IN ASSEMBLY

February 24, 2025

Introduced by M. of A. ZINERMAN -- read once and referred to the Committee on Environmental Conservation

AN ACT to amend the environmental conservation law and the labor law, in relation to establishing the New York youth climate corps

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Legislative findings. 1. The legislature recognizes that 2 climate change and environmental degradation are two of the greatest 3 challenges facing the state and the world today, and that we must mobi-
4 lize New York's workforce and youth to create a clean energy economy and 5 strengthen our communities and ecosystems in the face of climate 6 impacts.

7 2. The legislature finds that service provides a unique opportunity to 8 mobilize young adults to build clean energy and climate-resilient commu-
9 nities, economies, and ecosystems. Growing equity-centered, climate-re-
10 lated service programs and addressing critical gaps in service opportu-
11 nities will broaden access to service, ensuring that young adults of all 12 backgrounds, especially from overburdened communities and vulnerable
13 populations, can serve. Doing so will also ensure that service programs 14 address the needs of communities across the state, especially those 15 communities disproportionately impacted by environmental and health 16 burdens.

17 3. The legislature further finds that as our state transitions away
18 from a fossil fuel-based economy, we must do so in a way that fosters
19 innovation, investment, and growth in clean energy technology sectors 20 and jobs so our businesses, workforce, and communities can thrive. As 21 state, federal, local, and tribal governments implement policies to 22 mitigate the destructive forces of climate change, there will be conse-
23 quences for New York's businesses, workers, and communities. Accomplish-24 ing an equitable transition will require identification of future indus-
25 try occupations and skill needs, the existing workforce's transferable skills to meet those needs, and the gaps that need to be addressed through training and education. The state must provide support in the transition for workers and communities experiencing declining jobs and revenues associated with high emissions technologies. The state must also encourage the creation of a pipeline starting in the education system that leads today's youth into the clean energy careers of tomorrow.

4. Therefore, to create pathways for young adults to help build a clean energy, climate-resilient future, the legislature intends to create the New York youth climate corps. State involvement in the transition to a climate resilient economy and the youth climate corps' role in the implementation of the Clean Water, Clean Air, and Green Jobs Environmental Bond Act of 2022 are critical to ensuring a faster, more equitable transition that benefits all.
