(a) The central register shall be capable of receiving telephone calls alleging child abuse or maltreatment and of immediately identifying prior reports of child abuse or maltreatment and capable of monitoring the provision of child protective service twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. To effectuate this purpose, but subject to the provisions of the appropriate local plan for the provision of child protective services, there shall be a single statewide telephone number that all persons, whether mandated by the law or not, may use to make telephone calls alleging child abuse or maltreatment and that all persons so authorized by this title may use for determining the existence of prior reports in order to evaluate the condition or circumstances of a child. In addition to the single statewide telephone number, there shall be a special unlisted express telephone number and a telephone facsimile number for use only by persons mandated by law to make telephone calls, which shall be recorded, or to transmit telephone facsimile information on a form provided by the commissioner of children and family services, alleging child abuse or maltreatment, and for use by all persons so authorized by this title for determining the existence of prior reports in order to evaluate the condition or circumstances of a child. When any allegations contained in such telephone calls could reasonably constitute a report of child abuse or maltreatment, after utilizing protocols that would reduce implicit bias from the decision-making process, such allegations and any previous reports to the central registry involving the subject of such report or children named in such report, including any previous report containing allegations of child abuse and maltreatment alleged to have occurred in other counties and districts in New York state shall be immediately transmitted orally or electronically by the office of children and family services to the appropriate local child protective service for investigation. The inability of the person calling the register to identify the alleged perpetrator shall, in no circumstance, constitute the sole cause for the register to reject such allegation or fail to transmit such allegation for investigation. If the records indicate a previous report concerning a subject of the report, the child alleged to be abused or maltreated, a sibling, other children in the household, other persons named in the report or other pertinent information, the appropriate local child protective service shall be immediately notified of the fact. If the report involves either (i) an allegation of an abused child described in paragraph (i), (ii) or (iii) of subdivision (e) of section one thousand twelve of the family court act or sexual abuse of a child or the death of a child or (ii) suspected maltreatment which alleges any physical harm when the report is made by a person required to report pursuant to section four hundred thirteen of this title within six months of any other two reports that were indicated, or may still be pending, involving the same child, sibling, or other children in the household or the subject of the report, the office of children and family services shall identify the report as such and note any prior reports when transmitting the report to the local child protective services for investigation.

(d) For any telephone call that constitutes a report, the recording of such call made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be maintained for the length of time otherwise required by this section for maintenance of all records that relate to such report. For any telephone call that does not constitute a report, such recording shall be maintained for two years. Such recordings shall be confidential and shall only be available to the statewide central register of child abuse and maltreatment for the purposes of quality assurance and enhanced child safety. Provided, however, that a written transcript of such recording may only be obtained via judicial subpoena based upon the judicial determination that such transcript is necessary evidence in a criminal or family court proceeding provided further, that any information relating to the identity of the caller or which reasonably could lead to the identification of the caller shall be excluded from such transcript.

§ 25. Subdivision 2 of section 422 of the social services law is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

(e) Whenever a telephone call to the statewide central register described in this section is received by the office of children and family services and not registered as a report, the office of children and family services shall convey to the caller that such person has the ability to discuss with a supervisor the reasons for the decision not to register the report.

§ 26. Paragraph (a) of subdivision 6 of section 424 of the social services law, as amended by chapter 281 of the laws of 2017, is amended to read as follows:

(a) upon receipt of such report, commence or cause the appropriate society for the prevention of cruelty to children to commence, within twenty-four hours, an appropriate investigation which shall include an evaluation of the environment of the child named in the report and any other children in the same home and a determination of the risk to such children if they continue to remain in the existing home environment, as well as a determination of the nature, extent and cause of any condition enumerated in such report and the name, age and condition of other children in the home, and, after seeing to the safety of the child or children, including increased scrutiny given to the evaluation of any report received within six months of any other two reports that were indicated or are pending involving the same child, sibling, or other children in the household, forthwith notify the subjects of the report and other persons named in the report in writing of the existence of the report and their respective rights pursuant to this title in regard to amendment;

§ 27. Section 424 of the social services law is amended by adding a new subdivision 6-c to read as follows:

6-c. Upon receipt of a report which is received within six months of any other two reports that were indicated or are pending involving the same child, sibling, or other child in the household, a child protective investigator shall contact law enforcement to accompany such investigator to the child, children and/or home, and law enforcement shall remain where the child or children are or are believed to be present during the course of the investigation.

§ 28. Section 420 of the social services law is amended by adding a new subdivision 3 to read as follows:

3. A person who is convicted of a second or subsequent offense under this section within two years of the prior conviction shall be guilty of a class E felony.
