AN ACT to amend the criminal procedure law and the civil practice law and rules, in relation to detaining persons for longer than twenty-four hours

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 140.20 of the criminal procedure law is amended by adding a new subdivision 9 to read as follows:

9. For purposes of this section, "without unnecessary delay" shall mean promptly, and in any event before twenty-four hours or less have expired, commencing at the time of the person being taken into custody by such police officer, or any person acting on behalf of a police officer, even when no arrest number has been issued. The failure or inability of any government agency to fulfill the requirements of this section, shall require the immediate release from custody of any person so held.

§ 2. Section 7009 of the civil practice law and rules is amended by adding a new subdivision (f) to read as follows:

(f) Persons detained for longer than twenty-four hours. For purposes of this article, when a writ of habeas corpus is heard challenging the pre-arraignment detention of a person detained for more than twenty-four hours, there shall be an evidentiary presumption that such detention, without arraignment, was avoidable, unnecessary and unlawful as defined in section 140.20 of the criminal procedure law, until and unless such presumption is rebutted by clear and convincing evidence of compelling
