Introduced by Sen. WEIK -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Rules

AN ACT to amend the real property tax law, in relation to establishing a real property tax exemption for police officers who have a one hundred percent service-connected disability

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The real property tax law is amended by adding a new section 459-d to read as follows:

§ 459-d. Police officers with a service-connected disability. 1. Real property owned by a seriously disabled police officer, and constituting the primary residence of such police officer shall be deemed fully exempt from all taxes imposed upon such property for city, village, town, part town, special district or county purposes, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

2. For the purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "police officer" shall have the same meaning as defined in section 1.20 of the criminal procedure law;

(b) "seriously disabled police officer" shall mean a police officer who, through no fault or misconduct on such officer's part is totally and permanently disabled (i) by injuries received in the discharge of such officer's duties, or, (ii) as a result of illness attributable to the performance of such duties. Such disability shall be certified to by a duly licensed physician or physicians stating that such officer is one hundred percent physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of police duty.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the provisions of this section shall apply to any real property held in trust solely for the benefit of a person or persons who would otherwise be eligible for a real property tax exemption, pursuant to subdivision one of this section, were such person or persons the owner or owners of such real property.

4. (a) For the purposes of this section, title to that portion of real property owned by a cooperative apartment corporation in which a tenant-stockholder of such corporation resides and which is represented by their share or shares of stock in such corporation as determined by its or their proportional relationship to the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that owned by the corporation, shall be deemed to be vested in such tenant-stockholder.

(b) Provided that all other eligibility criteria of this section are met, that proportion of the assessment of such real property owned by a cooperative apartment corporation determined by the relationship of such real property vested in such tenant-stockholder to such real property owned by such cooperative apartment corporation in which such tenant-stockholder resides shall be subject to exemption from taxation pursuant to this section and any exemption so granted shall be credited by the appropriate taxing authority against the assessed valuation of such real property; the reduction in real property taxes realized thereby shall be credited by the cooperative apartment corporation against the amount of such taxes otherwise payable by or chargeable to such tenant-stockholder.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraph (b) of this subdivision, a tenant-stockholder who resides in a dwelling that is subject to the provisions of either article two, four, five or eleven of the private housing finance law shall not be eligible for an exemption pursuant to this section.

(d) Notwithstanding paragraph (b) of this subdivision, real property owned by a cooperative apartment corporation may be exempt from taxation pursuant to this section by a municipality in which such real property is located only if the governing body of such municipality, after public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

5. The commissioner shall develop a listing of documents to be used to establish eligibility under this section. Such information shall be made available to each city, village, town, part town, special district and county assessor's office. The listing of acceptable records shall be made available on the internet website of the office of real property tax services.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to assessment rolls prepared on and after January 1, 2027.
