§ 190. Application of article; definition. This article shall apply to banks, trust companies, savings banks, savings and loan associations and foreign banking corporations licensed, pursuant to section twenty-six of this chapter, to maintain a branch in the state, as those terms are defined, respectively, in subdivisions one, two, four and eight of section two, and subdivision five of section two hundred of this chapter. As used in this article, the term "banking institution" shall mean and include banks, trust companies, savings banks, savings and loan associations and foreign banking corporations licensed, pursuant to section twenty-six of this chapter, to maintain a branch in the state, as so defined.