§ 194. Public accommodation office not deemed branch office. A public accommodation office shall not be deemed a branch office as that term is used in this chapter and shall not be subject to any other provision of this chapter specifically relating to the establishment of branch offices. Each public accommodation office shall be deemed to be an integral part of the banking institution or branch office of which it is an adjunct, and all business transacted at such public accommodation office shall be deemed to be transacted at the office of which it is an adjunct.