§ 227-b. Rules and regulations. The superintendent shall have the authority to promulgate such rules and regulations consistent with the purposes of this article, including but not limited to such rules and regulations as may define the terms used in this article and as may be necessary or appropriate to interpret, implement or enforce the provisions thereof.