§ 570.60 No immunity from other criminal prosecution while in this state.

After a person has been brought back to this state by extradition proceedings, he may be tried in this state for other offenses which he may be charged with having committed here as well as that specified in the requisition for his extradition.