§ 123. Prohibition against transfer of employees to competitive class. Nothing in title A of this article shall be construed to effect a transfer to the competitive class of the civil service of any employee not heretofore included in such service.