§ 1207. Functions, powers and duties of other state agencies. Nothing contained in this article shall be deemed to derogate or detract in any way from the functions, powers or duties prescribed by law of any agency or department of the state or to interrupt or preclude the direct relationship of any such department or agency with local agencies, individuals or corporations for the carrying out of such functions, powers and duties.