§ 346. Test subject review of computerized test. Beginning in the test year two thousand, a test agency which administered a computerized test in test year nineteen hundred ninety-four shall offer test subjects who take a computerized test a process whereby test subjects are afforded the opportunity to review questions and answers from their computerized tests. On or before July first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight, such test agency shall submit to the commissioner a report detailing the implementation of such process. Such report shall set forth in clear language the nature of such opportunity, which shall also be sufficient to meet the demands of such process. The commissioner shall review and comment upon the report no later than September first, nineteen hundred ninety-eight.
