§ 262. Publishing and distribution of guidelines. The office for the aging, the department of health, and the office of children and family services shall make the guidelines and materials developed in accordance with this article available on their respective websites and provide such materials upon request to healthcare providers and facilities.