§ 225. Enforcement of conservation law. All the powers and duties now conferred or imposed upon inspectors and game protectors under article four of the conservation law, in relation to fish, birds and quadrupeds, hereafter shall be exercised and performed by the state police, inspectors and game protectors.