§ 327. Contributions to the institute. The institute may receive grants and contributions from any public or private source to the extent authorized by law.