§ 95. Legislative manual. The secretary of state, at the expense of the state, may in each odd-numbered year prepare and publish the legislative manual. The manual shall contain the constitution of the United States and of the state of New York, diagrams of the senate and assembly chambers, and such other information of the nature heretofore published therein, as the secretary may consider useful, and shall be printed and bound in substantially the same style as heretofore. As soon as printed, the secretary shall deliver a copy of the manual to each member and officer of the legislature, and to each state officer entitled to the session laws.