§ 1111. Appeals to appellate division. An appeal may be taken to the appellate division of the supreme court of the judicial department in which the family court whose order is appealed from is located.