§ 142. Authority to visit school or institution. Judges of the family court may officially visit any school or institution to which any person within the jurisdiction of the court of which he is an officer may be remanded or committed, and the authorities responsible for paying their respective salaries are authorized and required to approve and pay the necessary traveling expenses incurred by such judges in making such visits.