§ 228. Cooperation by banks and other fiduciary institutions. Banks and other fiduciary institutions are authorized and required to report to the court, when so requested, full information relative to any fund therein deposited by a petitioner or respondent in a proceeding under articles four or five of this act.